RESCUED after being trapped by the undertow at Ocean beach, San Francisco, 16-year-old William Badt is carried to safety by policeman Harold Eliaser and an unidentified passerby who stripped to his shorts and plunged into the surf. The youth was treated for submersion at a hospital and released.

Tighter Security Law Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) predicted today swift approval by Congress of a bill to plug what he termed "the great hole shot into our internal security" by the Supreme Court.

Mundt and Sens. Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) introduced yesterday similar bills designed to negate the court's 6-3 ruling on Monday that the government may not summarily dismiss on security grounds workers whose jobs do not directly concern national security.

Another Republican, former Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, agreed that the Supreme Court "did shoot a hole" in the loyalty-security program, but said it was "right where it should be shot."

Cain, appointed by President Eisenhower to the Subversive Activities Control Board, has become a vigorous critic of the program.

At the end of two days of testimony before a Senate judiciary subcommittee yesterday, one man Cain cited was reoffered a job he had lost on security grounds

* * *

SEN. HENNINGS (D-Mo) said the subcommittee he heads will explore other cases which Cain described as injustices or at least questionable.

Cain on Tuesday had termed an example of "fascism" the case of an ex-GI who had lost an American Red Cross job after the Army raised security questions against him.

Last night the Defense Department announced the Red Cross has offered to rehire the man, Irving I. August of Seattle, a World War II and Korean veteran. "I'll be delighted to go back to work," August said in Seattle.

He attributed his troubles to what he said was brief membership in the Progressive party in 1948. He said he dropped out because he felt "it was being influenced by Communists."

August said he wants a chance to clear his name. The Pentagon said August, dropped by the Red Cross March 26 when the Army refused to clear him for overseas service, will be given a hearing under its industrial security review system. This applies to workers of civilian contractors doing work for the military.

The outcome will determine whether August may go overseas for the Red Cross. Meantime, the Pentagon said, he will be restored without loss of pay to his former Red Cross job in Seattle.

New Test Is Seen Saving Many Women From Surgery

CHICAGO (AP)—A look-see test can save many women from unnecessary surgery to remove the womb. It is done with a pencil-thin instrument that permits direct vision of the interior of the womb or uterus.

With light from a tiny bulb on the end of the instrument, the physician can see whether tumors are really present that call for a hysterectomy, or removal of the uterus. Photographs can be taken through it.

Hundreds of American women daily have hysterectomies. Their tumors are quite often found to be a benign or harmless kind, fibroid tumors, growing in such a way that they could not cause trouble. Many of th[illegible] re still able to bear ch[illegible] Sur

The unique instru[illegible] have steroscope, is being [illegible]own in an exhibit at the American Medical Assn.'s annual meeting by Drs. William B. Norment and C. Henry Sikes of Greensboro, N. C.

Fibroid (noncancerous) tumors are often found during physical exams.

IF THEY ARE not large and are growing only on the outside wall of the uterus, they can be left alone, Dr. Norment said. The woman can still bear children. These fibroid tumors disappear after menopause or change of life.

[illegible] if th[illegible] tumors have penetrated through to the inside of the uterus, they cause bleeding and other distress. There can also be a question whether the tumor is really dangerous. Doctors hesitate to take a chance that it could not become dangerous.

The instrument developed by Dr. Norment gives direct vision to learn whether the tumor is on the inside.

If not, the operation could be avoided. It can also show whether the bleeding might be due to hormonal upsets that can be treated medically.

Established methods of exploring the interior of the uterus can at times miss because there is no direct vision, Dr. Norment said.

N-S Turnpike Survey Stalled By Questions

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Highway Department plans for an engineering study of two legs of a proposed north-south expressway were blocked yesterday.

The State Highway Construction Council said it will not consider a highway department request for $5,125,000 to finance the study until the department furnishes more information.

Highway Director S. O. Linzell requested the funds to finance preliminary plans for a 38-mile stretch of highway between Cincinnati and Dayton and an 80-mile leg from Conneaut to the east-west toll road near Cleveland.

A spokesman for the council says it wants to know:

Will sufficient amounts be left in the highway construction and bond retirement fund? The fund would finance plans on projects programmed for 1956-57.

Will funds be left to meet the following contingencies: Unexpected disaster on a major thoroughfare, provision for highways for new industries or relocation of a highway by another state requiring new construction in Ohio?

What future projects on major non-interstate thoroughfares would have to be dropped because of such an expenditure?

What recommendations have been made for financing the two expressway legs?

2 Truman Aides Found Guilty In Income Tax 'Fix'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, onetime government officials, were convicted today by a federal jury on charges of conspiracy in connection with an income tax evasion case.

The jury of eight men and four women reported they reached a verdict after deliberating 8 hours and 43 minutes.

Connelly, 48, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and Caudle, 52, former Justice Department tax head who was fired by Truman, could be sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000 each.

They were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government by trying to sidetrack the criminal prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer. Sachs eventually was indicted and on a plea of guilty was fined $40,000 for income tax evasion.

Traffic Courts 'Lack Respect'

COLUMBUS (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Otis R. Hess of Cincinnati said today the public attitude that traffic courts are "cash registers established to bring in money" must be broken down.

Hess, who established a reputation for sentencing traffic offenders to jail terms while he was a traffic court judge in Cincinnati, spoke at the third annual All-Ohio Traffic Court Conference.

"Traffic courts are not commanding respect of the communities," the judge said, adding:

"We must try cases on merits and not according to any policy of convictions."

Navy Recruit's Death Laid To 'Heat Stroke'

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP) — The death of a Navy recruit after undergoing a rifle drill was termed by a Navy board "a very unfortunate occurrence but not due to any culpability of Navy or any personnel on the base."

Maurice G. Everett, 17, of Lansing, Mich., died May 22, eight hours after he collapsed on duty at Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

The board of inquiry announced that Everett died of a "heat stroke established by autopsy."

Everett's superiors said he had been assigned to the rifle drill in a "retraining section" because he "talked back" to an officer who found him off limits in a barracks and ordered him out.

During the rifle drill Everett complained of arm cramps. He was assigned to a wash room cleaning detail when he said he was tired. The temperature that day reached 90.

Later, Everett was found unconscious in a washroom and died that evening in a base hospital.

Fan Blade Slits Throat Of Boy, 9

DENVER (AP) — Richard Perdham, 9, was critically injured when an electric fan blade broke and sailed across the room, cutting his throat.

The boy was in the living room of his home with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Perdham.

Perdham reported his son lost seven pints of blood, but was given transfusions at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Steubenville Opens Drive On Pinballs

STEUBENVILLE (AP) — Prosecutor Bernard T. McCann today instructed law enforcement offfcials to ban the 270 pinball machines in Jefferson County.

LeRoy Schell, Steubenville solicitor, said the $50 license fee paid by the owners of 150 machines in the city would not be returned.

Air Force Goal: 600 B52 Jets

Military Hopes 1959 To See Big Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increasing its goal by 100, the Air Force now hopes to have 600 long-range B52 jet bombers by 1959.

Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, deputy chief of staff in charge of Air Force production, gave the figures in secret testimony released in heavily censored form yesterday by a special armed services subcommittee.

In his testimony, Irvine also expressed the "personal feeling" that this country still holds an over-all lead over Russia.

Irvine told the subcommittee that the old goal of 500 of the B52 bombers was increased recently when production goals were boosted from 17 to 20 a month. The planes, costing about $8½ million each, now are being produced at the rate of about six a month.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, was quoted Monday as asking a Senate appropriations subcommittee for $3.8 billion of additional funds in each of the next four or five years to provide more planes, bases and men to handle them.

* * *

MEANWHILE, plans were made for Gen. Nathan Twining and nine Air Force officers, including an operations expert for the Strategic Bomber Force, to land in Russia June 23 for as good a look as they can get at Soviet airpower.

They were invited to watch a fly-over of samples from the Reds' swiftly expanding and thoroughly modern jet air force. How much more they may see is in doubt.

Polio Vaccine Said OK During Epidemic Peak

CHICAGO (AP)—A team of Navy doctors reported today that Salk polio vaccine apparently can be given during the height of an epidemic with little or no paralysis-provoking effect of its own.

Capt. John R. Seal of the Naval Medical Corps reported on the vaccination of more than 26,010 children and married adults in Navy and Marine service families in Honolulu during what he called a "rather severe" polio epidemic there last fall.

The joint report, made with Naval Capt. Robert S. Poos of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and Dr. Neal Nathanson of Atlanta, Ga., was prepared for the annual meeting of the American Medical Assn.

Dr. Seal said some doctors feared that the act of vaccination during an epidemic might provoke paralysis in persons who might already have been infected with polio virus.

Local Resident Hits At 'Racing' Along Route 22

Only Legislature's Action Can Boost Fine For Speeding

A Lancaster Pike resident today declared that speeding motorists make a "race track" out of Route 22 east of Circleville.

G. Samuel Gentzel did not center his complaint on Pickaway County drivers, but he made it plain he is heartily in accord with the "idea campaign" launched by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety. The department is anxious to get the public's reaction to the question:

"What do you suggest to tame the speeding driver?"

Cooperating with the campaign, The Herald will accept replies in writing, and possibly will publish some of them. A few may also be relayed to the state highway safety branch. All letters to be used must carry the signature of the writer.

* * *

IN HIS letter on "wildcats on the highway", Gentzel said:

"Money will tame anything. The law has always used this system, of handling our fines to offenders.

"Let there be a law of $100 and costs fines for speeders. They kill more people than the drunk driver.

"We have a race track out on Route 22 east—mostly out-of-staters though."

In public comment on the statewide campaign yesterday, Chairman Darrell Hatfield of the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee criticized what he said are easy court penalties handed out to drivers arrested for speeding.

Heavier penalties in court, he declared, are the "only answer" to help reduce speeding on the highways.

* * *

COURTS in most instances already are imposing the maximum penalty under existing law, a fine of $50. The fine is the only possible penalty. No jail sentence may be imposed nor may a driver's license be lifted. If a heavier penalty than a $50 is to be imposed on speeders then existing law must be changed. This change must come through legislative actoin.

Persons who favor heavier penalties on speeders should contact their representatives in the Ohio legislature and request a revision of the law dealing with speeders and reckless operators of vehicles.

When an auto operator is accused of reckless operation the maximum penalty is a fine of $50 and suspension of the driver's license for a maximum period of one year.

'Illegal' Advertising Bringing Lawsuits

AKRON (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Madigan of Silver Lake, who thought she struck it rich with a uranium lode last year, yesterday sued two companies for alleging using her name in advertising geiger counters.

She asked common pleas court to give her $25,000 for "invasion of privacy." Mrs. Madigan contended the Hower Department Store and radio station WAKR used her name without permission.

Mrs. Madigan's uranium, 60 miles south of Ottawa, Canada, is still being tested.

Today, the twins have daddy at home with them—all three pairs of jaws swollen with mumps.

Chief's Recovery Labeled 'Miracle'

Dulles Joins Bonn Chancellor In Conference In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in a 10-minute hospital meeting today he hopes for early action on reunification of Germany "to liberate the 17 million Germans" in the eastern zone.

Eisenhower, clad in pajamas and sitting up in a chair, received the 80-year-old German leader in a dramatic goodbye in the President's room in Walter Reed Army Hospital.

With them were Mrs. Eisenhower, Scretary of State Dulles, and interpreter, Henry Kellerman of the State Department's German affairs section.

Adenauer left immediately afterward for Washington's National Airport to fly to New York City to continue his U. S. visit.

It was Eisenhower's first meeting with anybody outside of his personal and official families and medical personnel since his operation for an abdominal obstruction last Saturday.

* * *

THE SESSION followed what the doctors reported as Eisenhower's best night since he underwent surgery.

Both Adenauer and Dulles described the President's recovery as "a miracle."

"I have asked the doctor to explain this miracle," Adenauer said, "and he has said it is a healthy organism."

Dulles said Eisenhower "personally brought up" the question of German reunification.

"It was a very good talk," Dulles said. "The President expressed not only the sentiment that he feels toward the chancellor and that the American people feel toward the German people, but he expressed the hope that action would soon be taken to liberate the 17 million Germans now in the eastern zone of Germany."

"It was a very interesting experience to be at this meeting," Dulles added. "It was almost a miracle that it could come so quickly after such an operation."

Adenauer said he was happy to have had the talk which gave him a chance, he said, of seeing the President "in such excellent shape."

"I must say that I would not have thought it possible that a person so soon after an operation could look that way, talk that way and participate so vividly in a conversation."

Probe Ordered On 'Kickbacks'

4 Cleveland Officials Targets Of State Aide

CLEVELAND (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today ordered an investigation of alleged "salary kickbacks" by employes of four elected Cuyahoga County officials.

The officials are Engineer Albert S. Porter, Auditor John J. Carney, Clerk of Courts Leonard Fuerst and Recorder Frank S. Day.

Brown ordered the election board here to investigate alleged election law violations by candidates who have filed sworn statements of receipts and expenditures of political funds. He told election Board Chairman Ben C. Green to turn over his findings to the county prosecutor for possible grand jury action. The four are Democrats. Brown is a Republican.

The Cleveland News said, "It is estimated that more than $200,000 has been collected in the two per cent 'voluntary' political contributions from county employes for alleged political campaign purposes to benefit the four elected county officials."

* * *

PORTER LISTED $1,909 in receipts in his expense statement, filed in the primary election. He has 500 employes, some of whom say they have been forced to pay two per cent of their salary to a campaign fund, the News said.

Carney failed to itemize or report collections when he ran for reelection in November 1954.

Dutch Papers Deny Influence Of 'Healer'

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Dutch newspapers today denied speculation abroad that a faith healer's reported influence over Queen Juliana might force her abdication.

The local editors, who had held off several days on the story after it broke in a German news magazine, branded reports of the faith healer's sway over Juliana an invasion of the royal privacy.

They denied there was any constitutional conflict between the Queen and the government.

The reports had no apparent effect on the Dutch parliamentary elections yesterday. The Communist newspaper DeWaarheid printed the story here first in apparent hope of touching off a political revolt. But the Reds in the latest balloting lost 2 of the 6 seats they had held.

County Fatality Toll In Traffic Accidents For June Now Four

Pickaway County's second traffic fatality within four days, and the fourth in less than half a month, was recorded this morning on the Kingston Pike. This marked the county's eighth highway death so far this year.

Victim of the crash, Homer Queen, 77, of Circleville Route 3, died at 9:44 a. m. in Berger Hospital. Exact cause of death has not been determined, according to the sheriff's department.

The car Queen was driving was struck by an auto driven by John E. Hamilton Jr., 23, of 455½ E. Main St. The accident occurred at 8:20 a. m. south of the Circleville-Tarlton Rd., near Scippo Creek, in Pickaway Township.

Hamilton said he was traveling south at an estimated speed of 60 miles per hour, the sheriff's department report stated. He said he noticed Queen's car, which had pulled off the road, suddenly start to make a left turn into a farm lane.

* * *

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES reported that Hamilton's car skidded approximately 180 feet before striking Queen's auto.

Deputies said an eyewitness bore out Hamilton's version of the accident. Homer Adams, of 316 E. Logan St., described by deputies as a friend of Hamilton's, said Hamilton had passed him about a mile before the accident scene. Adams reportedly said that he saw Queen's car at first pulled off the road and then starting to make the turn in front of Hamilton.

Queen, a farmer, had lived on the farm near where the accident took place. He had moved from there only a few weeks ago to a small farm north of Circleville along Route 23, according to sheriff's deputies.

The elderly man was found underneath his car when deputies arrived at the scene. However, they reported that he had not been pinned under the vehicle but apparently had been thrown out by the impact. Hamilton's car struck Queen's on the driver's side.

Hamilton was only slightly injured. He received a laceration of the left arm, a bumped right knee and a sprained right arm.

DEPUTIES SAID that, at the completion of their investigation, they will present all of the facts to Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer. Hamilton was not immediately detained by the deputies.

Soviet Clerics Delayed By Bomb Scare

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight homeward-bound Russian church leaders were delayed four hours by a phony bomb scare at Idlewild Airport but took off early today after the all-clear was given.

The Russian clergymen and 29 other passengers left on a KLM Royal Dutch Airlines Constellation at 1:50 a. m. for Amsterdam, Holland, after a search of the plane by the police bomb squad.

Before the bomb scare, Metropolitan Nikolai of Moscow had told newsmen at the airport: "We don't have as wide a range of activities as you do here because we work alongside of the atheists who carry on their anti-religious propaganda, and we have to meet it."

When asked about this apparent reference to Russian Communists, the Metropolitan said the "atheists" present a "formidable" obstacle to churches in Russia.

The Russian clergymen were invited to the United States by the National Council of Churches, the nation's largest Protestant and Eastern Orthodox group. A group of American church leaders visited Russia recently.

Bridegroom Falls Out Of Airliner

CHARLOTTE N. C. (AP) — President Airline officials were trying to find out today how a honeymooning bridegroom happened to drop to his death from a plane more than a mile in the air.

The victim, identified as Oren A. Pruitt, 38, of Charlotte, was said by neighbors to have been married Tuesday — just a day before his death — to Blande Tidd, also of Charlotte.

Pruitt's body was found in a church graveyard near Shelby after he plummeted from the plane while it was flying at an estimated 6,000 feet.

John Newell, airline agent here, said Pruitt apparently was swept out of the plane when a cabin door opened unexpectedly.

"$25,000 STAMP COLLECTION SEEN FROM ONE MILE AWAY"

My cousin Stanley started saving stamps about ten years ago, but not the kind you put on letters. He saved the Government Stamps from Liquor Bottles and cigarette packs. He finally got enough to fill his album, but by this time he was so run down from all that drinking and smoking he had to sell the collection to pay his Hospital Bill. But as a boy I was interested in Philately and by the time I was 16 I had saved up over 30,000 postage stamps from all over the world. They were so valuable I didn't want to put them in an album so I carried them with me all the time in my hip pocket, and eventually they got all stuck together in one big lump. So I started a new hobby—collecting lumps.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like a tailor who thinks the suit's too big, Secretary of State Dulles walked briskly up to the subject of neutrality and went snip, snip. None of this neutrality stuff for him.

"Immoral," he said. "Shortsighted." But this suit had been made by President Eisenhower. And Vice President Nixon put the pockets on it. Eisenhower had defended the right of nations to be neutral. Nixon said such nations are "our moral equals."

This had caused confusion. Where did it leave those nations which had lined up with the United States? Then Dulles apparently thought he'd straighten it out. Instead of lessening the confusion, he added to it.

On June 6, a few hours before the House started debate on Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid bill, the President walked into his news conference and made a little speech defending the bill. He used no notes.

There had been discontent in Congress over helping neutrals in the cold war. Then, as if urging Congress not to be too harsh on them, Eisenhower said that if a nation stays neutral and is attacked, the world is outraged. But if it gets into a military alliance and is then attacked, the world may say it had what was coming to it, Eisenhower said.

This was startling. The United States had spent much time and money trying to persuade nations in Europe and Asia to join military pacts with this country. Was Eisenhower now saying they were wrong when they joined?

It didn't take long for Eisenhower's White House aides to try to explained what he meant. A statement issued the next day said that while Eisenhower thinks some nations are justified in being neutral, he thinks they'd be safer being U.S. allies.

That night, June 7, Nixon made a speech showing the same tolerance toward neutrals. He tried to explain why they want to be neutral. Speaking of them, he said "we must deal with other people as our moral and spiritual equals."

But Dulles didn't show any tolerance for neutrals when he made a prepared speech in Iowa June 9. He said the 42 treaties this country has with other nations "abolish, as between the parties, the principle of neutrality, which pretends that a nation can best gain safety for itself by being indifferent to the fate of others."

He added: "This has increasingly become an obsolete conception and, except under very unusual circumstances, it is an immoral and shortsighted conception."

This seemed like an absolute contradiction of what Eisenhower and Nixon had said. But when Dulles was quizzed about it at his news conference Tuesday, all he seemed able to say was that he saw no conflict between his views and Eisenhower's. Newsmen gave up when they asked him flatly if he agreed with Eisenhower and they got the same answer.

A-Power Seaplane To Be Built, Claim

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Convair will start construction of an atomic - powered seaplane here early next year, the San Diego Evening Tribune reported.

The plane will be designed to retaliate with an H-bomb from some sheltered ocean hideaway even if a nuclear surprise attack has wiped out this nation's entire land-based bomber force.

Rep. Bob Wilson (R-Calif) announced the project after a conference with Navy officials in Washington, the newspaper said.

Money for the project is in the Navy budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. The sum is secret.

TRUTH

In Advertising

You have read a lot of "crazy" advertising in the car business. But you know that we, nor any dealer, can "give away" a new car. We do give you a fair Golden Rule deal. And right now we need late model trade-ins for our A-1 used car lot.

AND: we give fine, personal service to each of our customers. Also we offer Ford Buyers a free "REGISTERED OWNER" guarantee that has two (dollar conserving) benefits:

1. It protects you against spending out any large sums of money for major breakdowns for three years or 34,000 miles.

2. It guarantees to guard you against excessive depreciation loss. We keep a complete service file on the car you purchase—this file makes it more valuable later on when you trade again.

Imaginary Disaster Hits 'Boys State'

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—They had an imaginary disaster, imaginary martial law, and a real cleanup at Buckeye Boys State Wednesday.

A thunderstorm hit the American Legion-operated school where 991 boys of 16 and 17 are trying to learn how to run a government.

Mayor Alvin Budd of the City of Cobb, with 50 boy residents, pretended storm damage had made his city a disaster area.

At Budd's request, Gov. Richard Gorsuch proclaimed a "disaster" and declared "martial law," which lasted an hour and a half.

In that time Fire Chief Mike Morrissey and a crew thoroughly cleaned out 13 of the 24 cabins in Cobb. Morrissey then announced an imaginary storm damage of "around $500,000."

The governor asked the Legislature to pass an act making the State Highway Patrol legal. It seems Col. James Bower of Massillon and Capt. Lowell Gerwin of Bradner have been operating the 72-member patrol without enabling legislation.

Electronics Chiefs Split On Prospects

Economic Future Gets Close Study By Vital And Touchy Industry

By SAM DAWSON

CHICAGO (AP) — The electronics industry — sprawling all the way from parts for guided missiles to TV sets and automatic washers—is eyeing the general economy warily today. Here, where perhaps a third of the nation's output centers, they stress a sharp cleavage in outlook.

That part of the industry dealing with the public directly — TV-radio and many home applances —is on the soft side, waiting for the consumer to regain all the confidence in the future he showed last year.

But that part supplying industry and the military sees nothing to fear just now but the remote chance of a real recession. Industry's growth plans, its drive toward greater mechanization and automation, a fairly stable defense demand, give this portion of the electronics industry one of the brightest outlooks in the nation's economic picture, at present so splashed with light and shadow.

Sales of TV sets and many home appliances are down from last year, and inventories are heavy, although some of the TV companies here say rather smugly that they are in a better position than the auto industry because they played the production side of the game more cautiously. Plant shutdowns and layoffs are sprinkled through that part of the industry that deals with the consumer. And price cutting at the retail level is notable.

Some of the companies here have full lines. They make TV and radio and also ranges, refrigerators, built-in ovens, washing machines. Others specialize, say in just TV and radio. In both categories, most supply both the consumer and industry and the military, making up in industrial and defense sales. Some show curious deviations in the ratio of profits to sales.

Motorola reports higher sales but slightly lower earnings in the first quarter of this year. Zenith Radio reports both sales and earnings lower. Admiral, with a drop in sales, reports higher first quarter profits.

Industry spokesmen have a number of explanations for the slump in TV set sales, especially of the larger sets. The consumer may be playing it cautious just now, disturbed by recession talk, or he may already have all the time payments he can handle.

Some in the industry blame "another color scare," like the one late in 1953 that chilled the Christmas sales of black and white sets. That expectation of color supplanting black and white fizzled to stand up, and late in 1954 the customers were back buying again. And 1955 has gone down as a record year. Now there's big talk again of color TV finally getting off the ground this fall or next year at the latest.

Rough going in the industry has led to a number of mergers and to the folding of smaller companies. About 25 have dropped out in the last three years, a number just recently. The top 10 are capturing a higher percentage of the total business. Some here predict that this year will see 7,400,000 sets produced — a drop of 300,000 from last year — but that the 10 largest manufacturers will make 6,230,000 and the next 10 will produce 1,000,000, leaving only 170,000 to be made by the remaining 30 others in the field.

The electronics industry as a whole, despite any stumbling now and then by one of its divisions dealing with the fickle public, looks for steady growth. Leaders estimate it will do a six billion dollar business this year, compared with 300 million in 1939. Defense needs will take about half of this year's total, and commercial and industrial purchasing of electronic production will come to around 800 million.

Current Problem: Removal Of Snow

BOSTON (AP)—While the temperature in Boston read 91 degrees, Massachusetts Governor Herter signed into law an act making an additional $175,000 available for snow removal work.

The money was for payment of back charges for removal of last winter's heavy snows.

Licking Slayer's Case Gets Study

COLUMBUS (AP)— The Ohio Supreme Court has docketed the appeal of Earl Sullivan, 33, Licking County wife-slayer, from his first degree murder conviction.

Sullivan, scheduled to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair on Friday, received an indefinite stay of execution on May 31 when the court received his appeal.

Sullivan was convicted for fatally shooting his estranged wife, Valeria, on Oct. 29, 1955, in Utica, Licking County. He claimed his wife shot herself.

8,500 Ohioans Due On Reserve Setup

COLUMBUS (AP)—The chief of the Ohio Military District says an estimated 8,500 Ohioans will take part in U. S. Army Reserve summer camp training programs.

Brig. Gen. Martin J. Morin said the figure represents reserve units scattered throughout the state, and is one of the all-time highs for summer training reserve encampments, nearly doubling last year's participation.

Training areas are in Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Delaware, North Carolina, Illinois and the Erie Depot in Ohio.

Idle Pay Claims Dropping Sharply

COLUMBUS (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation showed a marked decrease for the week ended June 9, but continuing claims increased, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

The bureau said preliminary figures showed 7,998 claims of newly unemployed were filed compared with 10,868 for the week ended June 2.

The average of new claims for June of last year was 6,203, and the average of continuing claims was 39,106.

NOT CROP FAILURE RELIEF

SECRETARY Benson says the soil bank is not crop failure relief but a long range program of reducing surpluses. While some land where crops are failing may be banked this year, that will not be the central motive.

The need of less major crop production is evident. Despite government sale of about $1.8 billion of surplus crops in the past year, a disposal increase of 15 percent over the previous year, the glut in government storage keeps growing.

It is estimated that after this year's harvest there may be 30 million more bushels of wheat in government hands, 150 million bushels more corn and 3.5 million bales more cotton.

These mounting surpluses come from less acres as fertilizer and weather produce larger yields. The aim of the soil bank is another large decrease of productive acres.

Many farmers, of course, want to plant more and then bank only those acres where crops do not do well. Congress might try to oblige them next session. But as of now Benson is sticking to the original concept of the soil bank.

A WATER BOOM

HAVING discovered what appears to be an inexhaustible sheet of water under parts of the Texas Panhandle, farmers are beginning to convert what was once known as the Great American Desert into the garden spot of the Southwest.

Digging down 200 to 400 feet, at a cost that ranges as high as $17,000 a well, farmers in spots are overcoming arid conditions. Well irrigated farms produce up to 60 bushels of wheat an acre while there is a total crop failure on unirrigated farms.

The march of irrigation wells is proceeding right up to the Oklahoma Panhandle. There is already some deep well irrigation in Kansas and the Arkansas River underflow supplies great volumes of shallow water.

If there is sufficient underground water across the high plains to provide irrigation, there will certainly be a new deal in agriculture in that dust bowl region. But geologists fear wholesale drilling will result in a dangerous lowering of the water table.

FROM THRONE TO PAYROLL

JUST WHAT pay can an ex-king demand in today's labor market?

This question is raised by the announcement that Michael, who lost what was to have been a lifetime job of kinging in Romania, had accepted work with an American aircraft concern. The man who will be Michael's boss says the onetime boy king will be one of the few crowned heads who will ever make a dime. And on top of that he refuses to say what the ex-king will be paid. The only clue he gives is that the pay will be "more than he's been earning before."

This is Michael's first job outside the one he was born to. So presumably he never has been in the earning class before. That's why the reference to a dime is disturbing. Perhaps that was just a figure of speech. Surely the services of royalty are not to be calculated in such humble coinage as its enters into competition with the laboring classes.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The Constitution fixes the term of the President, when he is to be elected and how. The Constitution makes broad, general provisions as to what is to happen if the President dies in office or is incapacitated or resigns.

Incapacitated is not carefully defined. In contemporary times, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower were very sick men while in office; Warren G. Harding died. The United States continues as a nation and the American people continued to thrive despite these regrettable manifestations of the mortality of man.

No physician can guarantee the good health or long life of any man in public office. Dr. Paul Dudley White gave the impression that President Eisenhower is good for another five or ten years. Dr. White knows no more about that than you or I.

When Dr. White was doing all this talking, I was in the hospital, seized by the same type of heart attack that Eisenhower had. I asked my doctors to give me guarantees similar to those which Dr. White apparently gave about President Eisenhower. They refused. And quite rightly. Who are these doctors? God?

For what happened to Eisenhower, could happen to Stevenson, to Harriman, to anybody. Men have been known to go to a doctor for an annual examination, pass top-notch, be congratulated by the doctor, and drop dead on his door-step. Those who shout that every candidate for the Presidency undergo an examination are talking out of their hats.

Such an examination may, and often does not, disclose some trouble, but offers no guarantee that nothing will show up in a few months or for that matter on the very next day. When one passes 50, things begin to wear out and break away and most men in public life have abused their bodies achieving distinction and popularity.

Of course, we might elect a youth to the Presidency, one whose maturity is to be measured by I. Q. tests and the ability to answer questions in a manner that satisfies the ego of a professor.

The fact that President Eisenhower was hit down twice while in office does not mean that he is incapacitated permanently or that he will be struck down a third time or that he will not be struck down, or that his opponents are strong and healthy and will surely outlive him.

About such matters, nobody can know anything. In 1952, Bob Taft was a physically strong figure who was able to travel all over the country making hundreds of speeches. He was examined by a competent physician who found no warrant for restraining him. But he died of a cancer within months.

The objection to General Douglas MacArthur as a Presidential candidate was that he was too old. But here he is four years later strong in body and mind, seemingly ageless. Harry Truman was a well man in office, but nearly died of a disease a year later, and is now travelling the world as a columnist.

None of this proves anything more than that the human body is weak and requires fixing up, cutting away, correcting, adjusting as we go along. The body is such a complex physical and chemical instrument that it is a marvel and a miracle that it works at all, but it does work and even under the most adverse conditions. For instance, Beethoven became deaf early in life.

'Think Break' Brings Trouble

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Harrison Gouch, a University of California psychologist, says "think breaks" should be added to the daily or twice-daily coffee breaks now customary in many offices.

"Workers should be given a think time so that they can sit down and think out their problems without interruption," he said.

The idea sounds attractive on the surface, but it holds hidden perils.

For one thing it might hurt rather than help office morale. A boss who told his employes, "Now we'll all just sit still for 30 minutes and think real hard," might end up with a strike on his hands. If there is anything the average person resents, it is being forced to think.

The virtues of thought on the ordinary job are sometimes exaggerated. Too much thinking in an office could create bedlam. Look at the cow. It is a perfect factory, and delivers a perfect product. And it doesn't think at all. It merely ruminates, which is much more fun than thinking.

There is another objection to the idea of having the whole office force think at once about how to improve the business. Some sneak is bound to cheat. He is going to think, "Now, I wonder how I can get the boss's job." And he might figure out a way, too, on office time.

By and large, it might be better to have a "daydream break," a period during which everybody can relax and dream uninterruptedly about anything he likes. The chances are at least even he'll wind up with ideas at least as good as those he'd get furrowing his brow in the agony of thought.

A correspondent writes to ask whether we agree with Henry David Thoreau's observation that most men lead lives of "quiet desperation . . ."

No, indeed. Thoreau made his remark in the era of strong silent men. Times have changed. Most men today insist on leading lives of quite noisy desperation. A man with a despair now likes to go to a cocktail party and brag out loud about it.

The name-dropper is giving way to the disease - dropper. Folks nowadays like to share the ailments of famous people.

Since President Eisenhower's illness, half a dozen fellows have complained to us of symptoms of ileitis, a malady they never even knew existed until Ike came down with it. In another month it should be as popular as appendicitis.

Our nomination for the heroine of 1956 to date is a gay, 106-year-old lady named Mrs. Tirza Gonzalez of El Paso, Tex.

Mrs. Gonzalez, who can sew all day and doesn't need glasses, likes a hip of wine before breakfast. Later in the afternoon she prefers something "that rasps the throat, like tequlia." She also smokes three packs of cigarettes a day.

Some may look askance at Mrs. Gonzalez, who has outlived five of her seven children, and insist her bad habits will surely shorten her life.

But at 106 a girl certainly can afford to gamble a bit, and all we'd like to know is what brand of tequila she recommends and whether she thinks filtered cigarettes are better than the ordinary kind.

Enchanted Harbor

By D. Worley

SYNOPSIS

Priscilla Paige, who looks like Lauren Bacall, is in Apalachicola, Florida, to claim an unexpected bequest from a great-aunt. Her realistic writer-friend Rita is with her. En route to see Attorney Todd, a fisherman searches the car while they are in a restaurant and a distinguished-looking man observes all three of them with puzzling interest. Todd seems relieved when the girls agree to his keeping the key to Priscilla's newly bequeathed Lookout House, but he suggests a tour of it for the next morning. Now, the distinguished-looking stranger is showing interest in the girls again.

CHAPTER 5

"DON'T SUPPOSE you know who the two girls are?" the distinguished-looking man asked the restaurant cashier.

"Tourists, I reckon, just stopping for lunch. Interested?"

"Curious," the man said. "I just wondered about them. Not sisters, too different looking." His eyes moved over the people in the restaurant. "The older one looked Spanish, don't you think?"

The girl said, "Mr. Duval, you're always asking about people. Every time you come in here, you act like you're looking for someone. Are you?"

Bill Duval smiled. "There's not much to do around here. You get to wondering about people."

"Why don't you get on with writing that book?"

"Have to absorb atmosphere, you know. So many books have been written about Apalachicola, I want to do mine a little differently."

The girl took change from another customer, then turned back to Bill Duval. "No kiddin', Mr. Duval. Are you really writing a book? You're always riding around in that red car—and you fish so much. Thought maybe you were having a vacation and were joking about the book." She took care of another customer, then turned back to him. "No use looking out that door hoping to see that girl in the red pants. They're probably down about Carrabelle by now."

Bill was smiling. "You're mistaken there. At least, their green Dodge is parked in front of the Gibson Hotel. I think I'll go down that way."

When Bill Duval reached the hotel the green car was not there. He went inside and took a stool at the little bar that was screened off from the lobby. He asked for a lime rickey, then said nonchalantly to the man behind the bar, "Thought I saw more guests coming in. From Connecticut, weren't they?"

"Connecticut?" The man went over and looked at the register. "Nope. Nobody from Connecticut registered. Maybe you mean those two girls who came in awhile ago. But they're from New York."

"Oh. New York?"

"Yeah." The man looked at the register again. "Heard the older one call the other girl Priscilla. Here it is, Priscilla Paige. The other . . . Hmm. It's a queer name and I don't know how to pronounce it. Z-e-r-i-t-a Lambert."

"Zerita." Bill Duval turned the glass in his hands absently. "Sounds Spanish, wouldn't you say?"

"Sort of," the man agreed. "That other girl didn't call her that, though. I remember she was saying Rita."

"That's short for Zerita. Do they plan to be here for awhile?"

"The older one said they might want the room for one night, maybe longer, that she'd let me know tomorrow. Guess they're travelers, restin' up. It's a long way from New York."

"I didn't see their car outside."

"They sent the car across the street to the service station to be washed and serviced. They asked me where they could get a nice steak, and I told them to go over to Maud's. They're dressing now, I guess."

"I see." Bill finished his drink and slapped some change on the counter.

He went out on the long porch that surrounded the hotel on two sides and sat down in a rocking chair, wondering if he would have to wait long before the girls came down. In view of what the man had said, they would probably go to Maud's for dinner. If they were from New York, why did the car they were driving have a Connecticut tag? And if they were from Connecticut, why had they registered from New York? When Red Gallagher had hung around their car, as though interested, that girl with the odd name, Zerita, had come out and picked up a notebook from the front seat. He hadn't noticed it lying there. Could Gallagher have put it there? He opened a small notebook and made a notation just as the two girls came out. Immediately he picked up a magazine and began idly turning the pages, apparently absorbed, but alert to their conversation.

"Rita, let's go over and see if the car's ready." Priscilla looked up and down the street. "It's a strange-looking little town, isn't it? Foreign looking. Doesn't the sun look pretty shining through those palm fronds? It's almost down, and I'm getting hungry again. How about that steak?"

"He said to go across the long bridge over there and that just on the other side we'd find Maud's Tavern."

"I'm sure we won't have to wait long," Priscilla said, as they went down the steps and across the street to the service station.

Bill Duval wrote in his little book—They don't know the town, that's apparent. One of them said they wouldn't have long to wait. Were they talking about the car or something else? He turned back a page and read what he had last written there—Alvarez was talking to that shrimp fisherman soon after the man looked the green Dodge over. And he's driven by here twice. I'll watch and see if they make contact.

The car was ready. Priscilla and Rita turned across the long bridge, the water on either side flame colored from the setting sun. The air had turned cool with approaching night.

"After all, it's November," Rita said. "We should have known it would get cooler after dark. Next time we'll know to bring a coat. It's really gorgeous, isn't it?" Her eyes scanned the pink and gold water. The sun was a red disc above the horizon, shooting up spears of flame.

"It's beautiful!" Priscilla said. "Did you ever see such a sunset? I'm enjoying this so much, Rita. Of course I'm tired, but it's a pleasant tiredness . . . Rita, did you notice that man there on the porch at the hotel? The red-Buick man, I mean. He didn't even see us this time."

"I think he did. His indifference was a little too deliberate. Almost any man would have given us the courtesy of an appraising glance. That man doesn't belong around here, I'm sure of that . . . We're almost across the bridge. Look for Maud's Tavern."

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

A huge, 400-pound bronze statue of a dog was moved to its "permanent home" on the front lawn of the Wallace Crist residence on N. Court St. at Park Place.

The city received its annual check from Ted Lewis, Circleville-born famed entertainer, to be used at the park named for him.

County commissioners studied a foul-up in county relief funds.

TEN YEARS AGO

A reporter visited the dog pound on Island Rd. and declared conditions there were intolerable.

An 18-year old former Pickaway Township youth made the national headlines when he married a 79-year old Kentucky woman.

Local radio fans were saddened by the news that Major Edward Bowes, who originated the "Amateur Hour", died on the eve of his 72nd birthday.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

William D. Hedges of Ashville received an appointment as a graduate assistant in chemistry at the University of Boston.

Sterling Poling, 14, was hurt when he was thrown from a plow as the team of horses pulling it bolted.

A local cleaning establishment advertised cleaning and pressing ladies dresses for $1 and men's suits for 75 cents—an interesting comparison with prices today.

Try, Stop Me

A consignment of new draftees (not necessarily Marines) was taken for a gruelling 10-mile-hike with full equipment strapped to their backs. Then the grizzled sergeant (a Phil Silvers type) announced, "Now we've got to march right back without stopping for food or rest. Any man not fit for that, take three paces forward."

The whole outfit promptly took three paces forward —all, that is, but one poor boot who stood rooted in his place. "So, you're willin'," boomed the sarge. "I admire your guts!"

"Guts, my eye!" groaned the rookie. "I'm so pooped I can't even walk the three paces forward!"

Stephen Longstreet is still reeling from what a Hollywood producer's wife observed. "That Bill Holden is an actor after my own heart," she sighed. "A recognized star of the first rank, he still lives as simply as if he were a $2,000-a-week writer!"

Local Women Attend OSU 'Capsule' College Course

Demonstration Unit Also Holds Meeting

Several local women attended the first homemakers' short course at Ohio State University, Columbus, which has just been completed.

Approximately 338 were enrolled for this special three day educational and fellowship feature planned by the State Home Demonstration Council.

Those taking advantage of the "capsule" college course from Pickaway County were: Mrs. Dick Tootle, Mrs. Pearl Armstrong, Mrs. Lydia Neff and Mrs. Leora Sayre.

Enrollees attended four classes in home economics and a related subject and had an opportunity to: attend assemblies, participate in group singing, attend a special banquet and a surprise party and see and taste foods cooked in an electronic oven.

Mrs. Charles Gunder of Mansfield, president of state home demonstration council and who planned the back-to-school project, said: "We feel it a great privilege to be associated with our state university and it will give us an opportunity to receive up-to-date information from the extension staff of the School of Home Economics and the College of Agriculture."

Mrs. Gunder continued to say, "In our receiving and sharing we will gain much knowledge and experience which contribute to individual growth and development.

The state home demonstration council meeting was held this year in conjunction with the homemakers' short course at OSU.

Delegates from Pickaway County to the annual session were: Mrs. Floy Brobst and Mrs. Noble Barr, county home demonstration council vice-president.

Others attending were: Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner of District 10, home demonstration council president, and Mrs. Leora Sayre, county home economics agent.

Berger Guild 12 Holds Meet With Mrs. Bob Schmidt

Mrs. Robert Schmidt of Circleville Route 4 was hostess to members of Berger Hospital Guild 12 for their regular monthly meeting held in her home.

Mrs. Leslie Dearth, chairman, presided for the business session. Tentative plans were made for the annual family picnic to be held August 14.

Mrs. Sterling Poling demonstrated the making of a pipe cleaner and feather "stork" that she had designed and which the group decided to make in quantity to use as tray favors for new mothers at the hospital. This will be done during the July meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. Melvin Armstrong.

Mrs. Orley Judy presented a five minute discussion on handicrafts. Mrs. Judy related something of the history of the subject.

She listed as the first handicrafts the bowls and jars made by early man to fill his need for some sort of container and said that he decorated these with designs from nature.

Mrs. Judy continued to say that from 900 A.D. many of the people expected an end of the world 1000 A.D., so little was done in the field of handicrafts.

She said that during the period from 1200 to 1400 A.D. the churches regulated and controled most of the arts and crafts and they were monuments to the crafts at that time.

Mrs. Judy said that from 1400 when craftsmen were released by the churches there was much more variety in types and styles of crafts. She listed the furniture makers of England as being very prominent among the early craftsmen. She stressed the value of handicrafts among patients in hospitals and concluded by saying that among handicraft there is a hobby for everyone.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. George Furhman of N. Pickaway St. had as house guests Mrs. Furhman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Benson of Gary, Ind., also her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Benson of Gary. Bobby Furhman returned with the Bensons for a visit.

Raccoon 'Treed' Up On 10th Floor

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Two special agents battled and captured their prey on the ledge of a 10th floor office building in the downtown business district.

Then the two agents from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals asked: "How did the raccoon get to the 10th floor of an office building?"

Strong Police Action Seen Needed Now

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man who knows about traffic slaughter believes it will take strong police measures to cut it down.

Samuel R. Gerber told a safety conference Wednesday night he has seen the bodies of 3,937 persons who were killed in traffic accidents in his 19½ years as Cuyahoga County coroner.

He recommended calling out the National Guard on holidays, suspending violators' licenses, using unmarked police cars, cutting speed limits, and abolishing railroad grade crossings.

Education, engineering and enforcement haven't reached the drivers who are causing the accidents, Gerber said.

"It is the undisciplined persons who usually cause accidents. They never seem to be reached, despite education, traffic engineering and enforcement. To reach the undisciplined, we may have to take measures that the disciplined group may resent. But they must conform."

About 80 police officers, officials and judges attended the conference at Western Reserve University at the request of Gerber, who wants to develop a permanent organization to work out a uniform accident prevention scheme.

Liquor Department Shakeup Complete

COLUMBUS (AP)—A shakeup in the enforcement branch of the state liquor control department has been completed with the transfer of three investigators-in-charge, Director William C. Bryant announced.

Two weeks ago, six other chief investigators were handed new assignments.

Bryant said the transfers were made "in order to improve and strengthen our enforcement."

Transferred are Lawrence Lucius, Sandusky District to Toledo District; V. C. Tobias, Toledo to Akron, and George Simpson, Akron to Sandusky.

Senate OKs Big Bill For Flood Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday passed a bill to appropriate $872,186,000 for construction of flood control, navigation, power and reclamation projects in the year starting July 1.

Senators and representatives will have to get together now to reconcile the differences between appropriations authorized in the two chambers.

Included in the Senate bill were the following construction projects:

Ohio: Ashtabula harbor $1,800,000, Cleveland harbor $1,700,000, Dillon Dam $1,500,000, Muskingum River reservoirs $425,000, New Cumberland lock and dam $8,000,000, Toledo harbor $380,000.

Indiana: Markland locks and dam $5,000,000.

Kentucky: Greenup lock and dam $,900,000, Lock and Dam 41 $1,000,000.

The bill also provides funds for planning the following projects:

Kentucky: Lock and Dam 41 $15,000, New Richmond lock and dam $150,000.

On all Ohio projects except Dillon Dam, the Senate appropriations were the same as those in the House. The House made no provision for Dillon Dam. The House also made no provision for Kentucky Lock and Dam 41 construction and appropriated only $100,000 for planning the New Richmond lock and dam.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Twenty-five years ago, I was married to a wonderful man, 10 years my senior, who had two young sons and lots of friends who welcomed me into their group. I was an only child, orphaned at 18, hence my life with Bob seemed the more wonderful.

The years passed swiftly. We were a close family unit and had a wonderful life and many friends. The boys grew. The elder finished his Army service and married; and the younger was about to be graduated from college when I found I was pregnant. I was thrilled beyond measure; but Bob started worrying.

Returning from the younger boy's wedding, Bob had a heart attack. A few days later Carol was born. For the next three years Bob was in and out of hospitals, and when Carol was three, Bob died. In those three years, everything had changed.

Since Bob has gone and I don't have money to entertain, I am left completely alone. Nobody remembers to invite me on Saturday nights, which years ago meant dinner parties for us, and still does to rthem. Occasionally I see old friends at church, who ask about the boys, and say how wonderful that I have Carol. But none of them thinks that at 49, I still have a life to live.

Any advice for me?

R. D.

DEAR R. D.: You say rather bitterly, with a touch of self-pity, "I no longer belong to the clique, because I don't wear mink or drive a Cadillac." I think I ought to advise you against that kind of squawk. It is a dishonest slant, a false reproach against your former fair weather friends.

It is a refusal to face up to precisely what you have lost, namely, your husband. It is pretty self-evident, and most women prove in their scramble to marry, that adult society as organized around couples almost entirely. The pair has a status (potentially)—an entree—that the individual (with rare exceptions) simply hasn't got.

Also, you need to recognize that you aren't acting your age, nor giving a creditable account of yourself as a life-seasoned widow.

It strikes me that your whole attitude is a rigid resistance to life as it is—for the nature of physical life is change, and the fading away of what has been. At your age, you should be dgiesting this fact, and learning to take life as it comes.

"Into each life some rain must fall; some days must be dark and dreary"—and you will be more of a magnet for friends, when you accept your widowhood equably, without panic or pathos.

Leaning Building Being Fixed Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—An eight-story parking building which tilted more than 20 degrees will be strengthened and completed. The building has already been straightened.

Building Commissioner William D. Guion approved plans for completing the construction.

The structure in downtown Cleveland started to tilt about six weeks ago and threatened to collapse.

Guion told Floyd Kiehl, manager of the Central Light Slab Co., the builders, that his approval was given on the condition that R. M. Gensert & Associates, which drew up new plans, supervise the work and make daily reports to him.

'Inspired' Lover Freed In Lawsuit

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A pharmacist who claimed he wrecked his auto when he became "inspired" and returned the kiss of his girl friend has been freed in a damage suit filed against him by the girl.

Judge Thomas M. Marshall refused a new trial to Mary Lyons, 29, of nearby McKeesport. She had charged Alex Wargo, Glassport, Pa., with negligent driving.

Wargo testified Miss Lyons kissed him while he was moving and that he became "inspired" and responded in kind "for a period between 30 seconds and a minute" during which time his car hit a pole.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork prices declined on the wholesale market in the past week, and a number of food stores across the country have been quick to offer the meat as a weekend bargain.

Wholesale prices for lamb have also dropped off in the past few days but for the most part there has not been enough time for this to be reflected in retail prices. The declines in pork and lamb come after a prolonged climb in price for both meats.

Beef prices held firm at wholesale this week and on many butcher counters price tags were higher, reflecting wholesale increases of the past few weeks.

Among vegetables, cabbage was generally in heavy supply and government market experts have put it on the list of outstanding buys.

Other crops from local farms now on the list of outstanding buys are lettuce, radishes, green onions and spinach.

A two pound smoked boneless pork butt may be roasted on a rack in an open pan; it will need about an hour and a quarter in a moderate oven.

The criticized Republican and Democratic leaders whom he said are reluctant to oppose politicians who are blocking moves toward integration in Southern schools.

Civil Defense Offers Rules Of Safety Against Twisters

Regional offices of the nation's Civil Defense Corps have reminded Pickaway County residents that the peak of the "tornado season" is now here, and that isolated twisters could strike this section of the state.

Civil Defense Director Bernard Tait disclosed receipt of "Tornado Safety Rules" to be passed along to the local public. In turning over the list of precautions, Tait said:

"I know that the average person isn't going to pay too much attention to tornado warnings in Pickaway County. Somehow we just have the idea that when they do come, they'll hit some other part of the state.

"Our chances of being hit here are, I'm glad to say, low in percentage — but the safety rules we've been asked to distribute come under the heading of all safety rules. That is, it's far better to have the information and not need it than to find ourselves faced with a high winds emergency without knowing what it's all about.

"Everybody should clip and save the precautions."

THE "Tornado Safety Rules" follow:

1. There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves or underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas, or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

2. If you are in open country:

Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

3. If in a city or town:

Seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!

In homes: The southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar or the basement of a frame house. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Windows on the north and east sides of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

Standing against the inside walls on the lower floors of an office building offers some protection.

4. If in schools:

In city areas: Especially if school building is of good steel reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs!

In rural schools that do not have reinforced construction — remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

5. If in factories and plants:

On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if the tornado approaches the plant. Workers should be moved to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

6. Keep calm! It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case".

7. Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

Tornadoes happen most frequently in the midwestern, southern and central states from March through September. Pickaway County during the past few years has had a number of serious "tornado alerts" and numerous wind storms that caused extensive damage.

A tornado's appearance is fairly well known—a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. Hot, sticky weather sets the stage for tornadoes—when they happen.

Rain, and frequently hail, precede tornadoes, and the most dangerous time of day is considered between 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. In nearly all cases, tornadoes move from southwest to northeast.

Tait said he wanted to make it clear that the release of precautions at this time does not mean that tornadoes are expected soon in Pickaway County. The information given, he stressed, is purely precautionary.

"Just in case we ever need it," he explained.

Teen-Age Road-e-o Set For Saturday

CLEVELAND (AP) —The best young drivers in the state will test their highway skills Saturday in the Ohio Teen-age Road-e-o in suburban Euclid.

The boys and girls, winners of contests sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce in more than 100 cities, will take a written quiz on highway safety.

Then they will maneuver their automobiles through a course made complicated with barriers and barrels. Later they will go on public roads so that their attitudes toward pedestrians, other drivers and traffic laws can be judged.

Preventive Heart Surgery Being Urged By Specialist

CHICAGO (AP)—An operation that aids ailing hearts could be used to prevent serious heart damage before it occurs, a heart specialist believes.

Some 1,200 persons with sick hearts have had this surgery, said Dr. Bernard Brofman, Mount Sinai Hospital, Cleveland. He called it safe and effective for a majority of patients who have had coronary attacks.

It should no longer be considered a "last resort" step after other treatments have failed, he said. "Ideally, it should be performed before any significant muscle damage has occurred," he told the American Medical Assn.

The operation is one method of helping people whose arteries bringing life-nourishing blood to the heart muscle have become plugged.

It involves dusting asbestos powder over the surface of the heart to stimulate new channels of blood flow, and carrying out other steps. It was developed by Dr. Claude Beck of Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

* * *

NINETY PER cent of 185 persons operated since 1951 have been freed from all or most pain, and 90 per cent have returned to full or parttime work, including some doing heavy labor, Dr. Brofman said. None among the last 58 patients succumbed to the surgery, even though a fourth were in bad condition.

Dr. Brofman proposed it could help some persons, suffering from the artery plugging, before they got into serious trouble.

Most persons dying of coronaries still actually have enough heart muscle left to keep the heart beating if enough of the muscle could be kept nourished, he said. In only 20 per cent does the life pump fail because of extensive destruction of heart muscle tissues.

In many patients, deaths might be prevented by surgery, done early enough, he said.

Mitchell To Speak

CLEVELAND (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has informed Grand Chief Engineer Guy L. Brown that he will address 400 delegates at the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers convention here next Tuesday.

Sokolsky's These Days

We assume that music is something to be heard. But Beethoven never heard either his Fifth or his Ninth symphonies. But he wrote them. Helen Keller has been blind and deaf nearly all her life, but she became a great public figure. Thomas Edison could not hear but he invented the phonograph. Milton was blind but he wrote some of the greatest poetry in any language.

The human mind is an ingenious instrument which is at its greatest when it transcends all difficulties and impediments. the question is not whether Eisenhower is a well or a sick man; it is whether he has been a competant President.

Similarly, it does not so much matter whether Stevenson, Harriman, Johnson or Symington, to mention a few Democratic candidates, is sick or whole, but whether each is a competent, broad-spirited man of character. Who will be alive four years from now, nobody can say for you, for me, for a President or for anyone.

Coon-On-The-Log Contests Squelched By Missouri Law

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP)—The law came to the raccoon's defense today and was set to squelch the revival of an old frontier pastime — 'coon-on-the-log contests.

A formal ruling by Missouri Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held the sport violates a statute prohibiting the "baiting of any bull, bear, dog, cock, or other creature."

The opinion was issued at the request of D. W. Sherman, Lafayette County prosecutor.

"There's been quite a rash of contests," Sherman said. 'We've had some complaints from humane society people.

"The business dates back to pioneer days, and there was a question whether you could regard it as a legitimate sort of trial for 'coon dogs. So I decided to ask the attorney general."

For the benefit of city folks who think of raccoons in terms of coats or politician's caps, it should be noted that the 'coon is a worthy foe when hunted legitimately.

A relative of the bear, he lives mostly in trees and is hunted by dog packs at night throughout the hill country. Hunters generally agree the cornered 'coon, on land or water, is a match for a single dog, though some dog fanciers are usually ready to argue the point.

That's how coon-on-a-log contests apparently got started in frontier days and why ready money betting has usually attended the contest.

It usually works like this:

A raccoon is chained to a log in deep water, some 60 feet off shore. A dog is allowed a given time to swim out and yank the ring-tailed captive into the water.

The 'coon has free use of teeth and claws. Officials in a nearby boat are supposed to separate the animals if the dog manages to drag the raccoon off the log. The encounters often are bloody.

Sherman said no prosecutions were planned but the contests will be stopped.

Harvard Professor Freed In Probe

BOSTON (AP) — The Department of Justice has dismissed a contempt indictment against Wendell H. Furry, an associate professor at Harvard University who acknowledged former Communist membership but refused to answer questions put by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

U. S. Atty. Anthony Julian moved for dismissal on the ground that U. S. Dist. Judge Bailey Aldrich's acquittal of former Harvard researcher Leon J. Kamin in a similar case left the government with evidence "deemed insufficient to warrant further prosecution."

Turnpike Chiefs Eye Big Billboard

CLEVELAND (AP) — Will a billboard advertising air brakes make truck drivers safety conscious or will it be a distraction to drivers?

Ohio Turnpike authorities have started a study of a giant sign being erected at the Bendix-Westinghouse Automotive Air Brake Co. in Elyria.

The 240 foot long sign with capital letters 26 feet high will be visible to turnpike travelers.

Billboards are banned within a certain distance of the turnpike, but this giant one apparently is outside the area covered by the no-billboard edict.

Lawsuit Winners Shave Settlement

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for Carl (Butchie) Berry made an out-of-court settlement for $160,000 today for injuries the boy suffered in a traffic accident involving DeWitt Motor Co. of Akron.

A common pleas jury had returned a $300,000 judgment for the boy. But Attorney Ralph Spangenberg said Butchie's family agreed to accept the lesser amount because De Witt Motor was in danger of going into bankruptcy.

Butchie, 8, was hit by a car driven by a DeWitt salesman.

Most topaz stones are found in Brazil, Ceylon, the Urals and the United States.

Cincy Hotel Marquee Falls During Storm

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cables holding a 40-foot marquee over the entrance of a downtown Cincinnati hotel snapped during a severe storm Tuesday night, and the front part of the massive marquee crashed to the sidewalk. Six persons were injured.

It was not known whether a lightning bolt or an accumulation of rainwater caused the marquee to collapse during the storm that swept Cincinnati and nearby Northern Kentucky cities.

None of the six injured was trapped under the metal and glass marquee of the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel. But at least two of them were shoved through a restaurant window which was shattered.

Throughout the Greater Cincinnati area electric lines were knocked out and there was widespread damage as water poured into homes and business establishments.

The most severe part of the storm lasted about two hours but there was sporadic rain and lightning after that. One bolt of lightning struck the roof of Music Hall in Cincinnati, and police roped off a section of 14th Street because of fear a part of the roof might fall.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said 2.66 inches of rain fell in two hours, beginning about 6 o'clock.

The injured included John Breding, 25, and Philip Grove, 29, both of Ironton. They suffered severe cuts.

Witnesses said that only a few minutes before there had been 25 to 30 persons under the marquee.

Grove said, "There was a bolt of lightning. It fell all at once."

Lost Prospector Is Rescued After 8-Day Diet Of Lizard

MOAB, Utah (AP)—When a boat carrying two uranium prospectors capsized in the raging, muddy Colorado River, one of the men took off for the desert.

The other, 43-year-old Charles L. Robinson of Hot Springs, Ark., elected to work along the river and eat berries to stay alive.

Robinson was finally rescued just eight days after the mishap.

Instead of berries, he ate raw lizards and cactus, and he lost 42 pounds during his ordeal.

"Lizards taste a lot like sardines or tuna when a guy is good and hungry," he said as he recuperated in a Moab hospital.

Of his adventures, he said:

"I was rescued alive only by a divine act of God.

"There is nothing heroic about going through there.

"You can feel your neck and wrists getting skinny. That stuff about living a month in the forest with a knife is bunk. Not in this country. The lizards are too small."

Robinson's companion, Bryan Waelder, 52, of Long Beach, Calif., was rescued last Friday after walking overland almost 100 miles through the desert.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Wells of Hanksville spotted Waelder from the air and rescued him.

Lions Shut Out Williamsport In Opening Game

Joe Adkins Allows One Hit For Victory In Babe Ruth League

Circleville's kids baseball program at Ted Lewis Park got off to a rousing start Wednesday as the Lions Club shut out Williamsport 2 to 0 on a one-hitter by Joe Adkins.

The winners got 10 hits but could only score lone runs in the third and sixth innings. In addition, Williamsport committed five errors, none of which figured in the scoring.

Adkins struck out 13 batters and walked only two in the seven inning game. Myers, the losing pitcher, got the only hit, a single.

Both pitchers went all the way. Although Myers gave up all the hits to the Lions Club, the winners left nine men stranded on base.

Birdie High In Praise Of Pirate Pilot

CINCINNATI (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, who may be the best manager in the National League, is convinced Bobby Bragan, freshman pilot who has done such a splendid job masterminding the Pittsburgh Pirates into first place, will be on the big league scene for many years.

"That fellow Bragan has shown me he has what it takes to manage successfully up here," Tebbetts said last night after the scheduled game between his Cincinnati Reds and the Pirates had been postponed because of a thunderstorm.

"He's not afraid to gamble and he's got the guts of a burglar. He knows what he's doing out there all the time and he's always thinking ahead. More important he's got the courage of his convictions."

Tebbetts' enthusiastic endorsement to Bragan is understandable because they are the same type manager. Both are deep strategists, both like to try innovations such as a four - man outfield against sluggers like Stan Musial and a five-man infield in an effort to frustrate an attempted bunt. Neither is hesitant about pulling out his ace pitcher for a pinch hitter in early innings, nor going against the book, or law of averages, when they believe the situation merits it.

Last night's rainout prevented the Reds from making an effort to regain first place in the National League, a spot they lost to Pittsburgh Tuesday night.

Gophers, Arizona Awaiting Finale

OMAHA (AP)—Arizona and Minnesota meet for the third time tonight in the NCAA college world series with the title at stake.

Arizona evened up the series last night by thumping the Big Ten champions, 10 to 4.

That was the second meeting of the clubs, Minnesota having won 3-1, on Sunday to put the series record of both teams at 4-1. The tourney is double elimination.

Fabius Entered In Ohio Derby

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fabius of Calumet Farm, place runner in the Kentucky Derby, and Swoon's Son, winner of last Saturday's $50,000 Chicagoan, head a list of 53 horses nominated today for the $45,000 Ohio Derby at Thistledown Racetrack June 23.

The Ohio Derby is a mile and one-eighth test.

Other three-year-olds nominated for Ohio's richest race include Kingmaker, winner of the $25,000 Kent Stake; Come On Red, third in the Kentucky Derby; and Golf Ace, disqualified winner of the Wood Memorial.

Wertz' Spark Helping Tribe Stay In Race

BOSTON (AP)—The comeback of Vic Wertz is helping keep the Cleveland Indians in the American League pennant race.

After winning a bout with non-paralytic polio last year, the 31-year-old first baseman is on the way to his best season in 13 years in the majors.

Wertz blasted two homers and a single yesterday, to boost his batting average to .333, 91 points higher than last year at this time.

It wasn't enough to win the game, as the Indians played an 11-inning 8-8 deadlock with the Boston Red Sox. A storm, complete with hail, rain and lighthing stopped the play. The game must be replayed in its entirety later in the season.

Wertz nearly broke it up in the ninth inning. With two out and Al Rosen on first base, Wertz smashed a long drive just foul into the right field seats. Then he lined one to the pitcher who threw him out.

His two homers gave him 14 for the season, the same number he hit all last season. His five runs batted in gave him 44 for the season, only 11 under 1955.

Wertz was playing with a pulled leg muscle, aggravated by a slide in Tuesday's game.

The Indians return Friday to Cleveland for a 14-game home stand, starting with the New York Yankees. Lopez hopes Herb Score, recovering from a digestive ailment, will be able to pitch.

Carl (Bobo) Olson won 15 straight pro bouts before losing his first fight in 1947.

Ray Robinson won his first 40 pro boxing bouts before losing to Jake LaMotta in Detroit early 1943.

John B. Kelly, father of Princess Grace of Monaco, is president of the Atlantic City Racing Assn.

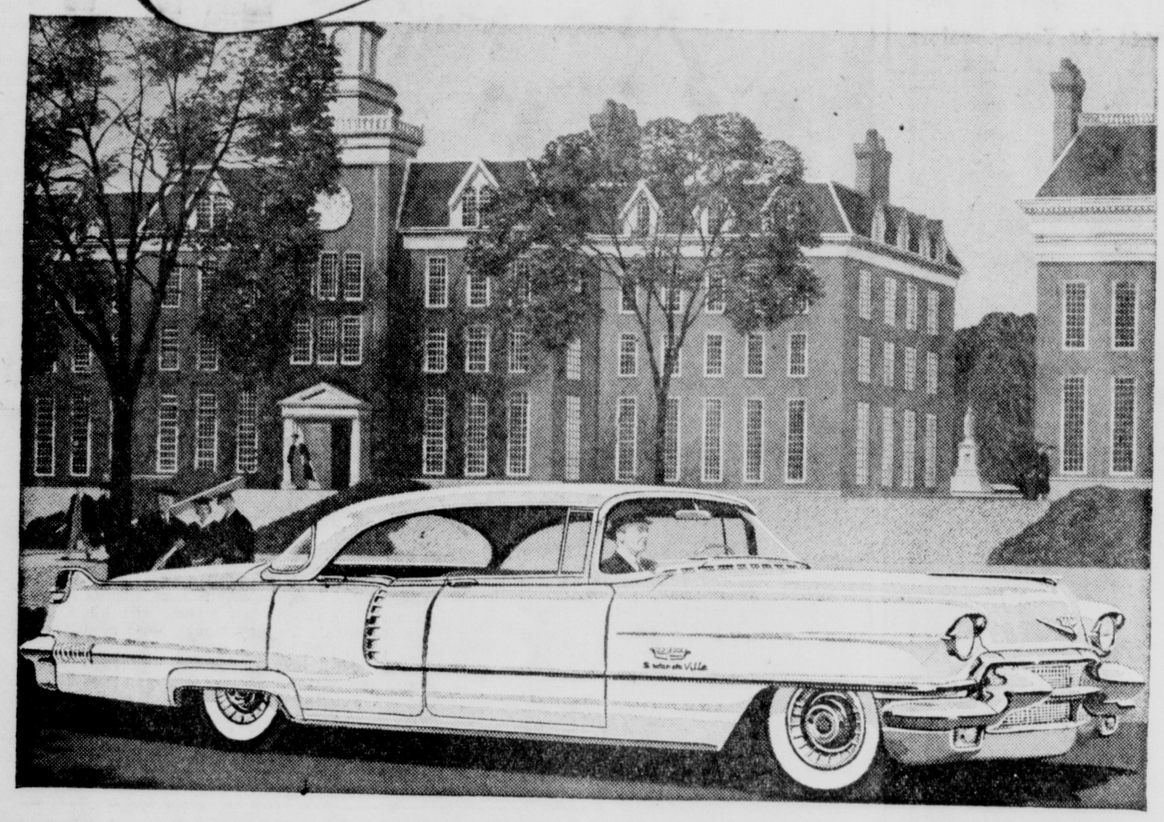
Cadillac



Just Graduated...To a Cadillac!

It's graduation time! And this happy gentleman—appropriately enough—has just gone through some important graduation exercises of his own.

It was just a few minutes ago, in fact, that he stood in his dealer's showroom and accepted the keys to his first Cadillac car.

But even though he now holds his final degree, so to speak, in motor car ownership, his education in all the good things of motordom is only beginning.

Take performance, for instance. The car is so smooth and powerful, and so nimble and obedient that it automatically revises a man's standards of automotive performance.

Consider comfort. Rolling along the broadest boulevard or taking the roughest bylane, the car is incredibly smooth and level in ride.

And think about pride and satisfaction. What an extraordinary feeling it is to sit in command of the "car of cars"—and find yourself the subject of admiring glances on every hand.

Have you ever considered how wonderful it would be to "graduate" to Cadillac? If you have, then this is a marvelous time to make the move.

Certainly, it has never been easier to sign your name to the title. We are, happily, in a position to offer you prompt delivery on your favorite model—and we know you will be pleased to learn how practical Cadillac ownership has now become.

Why not stop in while the springtime is still with us—and spend an hour at the wheel?

It's a wonderful season and a wonderful car—and a wonderful opportunity to enjoy them both!

Robin Roberts May Miss His 20 Victories

One-Time Philadelphia Ace Running Cold This Season Loses Eighth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It begins to look as if the rest of the National League has caught up with Robin Roberts, the ace of Philadelphia's pitching staff who may miss 20 victories for the first time in seven years.

Milwaukee's Braves, who had lost 13 of 23 run-ins with Roberts, greeted Robin like a favorite cousin Wednesday night, rocking him from the mound with a seven-run fourth inning that handed the big righthander his eighth defeat against only five victories.

It was the fourth straight setback for Roberts, who hasn't lost that many in a row since 1953. Never in his six straight 20-or-more-victory seasons was Robin shackled with a losing record at this stage of the schedule. He's had only one losing year in baseball—when he was 7-9 as a rookie with the Phils in 1948.

Only one other NL game was played, with the Chicago Cubs winning No. 10 in the last 13 on a 6-5 decision over the New York Giants. Rain postponed the first-place battle between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Brooklyn and St. Louis were not scheduled.

In the American, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees for the first time in seven tries 7-5 and edged into second, four games back of the Yanks, as Cleveland and Boston battled to an 11-inning 8-8 tie halted by rain.

Detroit bopped Baltimore 2-0 on Charley Maxwell's ninth-inning home run. Kansas City popped out of the cellar with 21 hits that beat Washington 13-4 and dropped the Senators into last place.

The Braves snapped a three-game losing streak in their 14-hit attack against the last place Phils. Roberts absorbed nine of the blows, including three triples by Danny O'Connell that tied a major league record. Del Crandall and Ed Mathews homered for five runs in the big fourth.

Three New York errors totaled five unearned runs for the Cubs, who counted a three-run homer by Eddie Miksis as Bob Rush won his sixth with ninth-inning relief. Jim Hearn lost it for a 3-6 mark.

The White Sox won the hard way, giving up three unearned runs with four errors and overcoming a 3-1 deficit in the fourth on Ron Northey's pinch three-run homer off starter Bob Turley. Larry Doby made it 5-4 in the fifth with his first home run of the season and Luis Aparico packed it away with a two-run, bases-loaded single in the seventh.

Detroit had just one hit off Billy Loes, making his first start for the Orioles since his purchase from Brooklyn, before he retired in the seventh. Maxwell's 11th homer was the first this season off reliefer George Zuverink.

Charley Thompson and Vic Power each had five hits for the A's while Hector Lopez and Gus Zernial homered in the hit parade against four Washington pitchers.

Illinois Broker Leading Seniors

RYE, N. Y. (AP)—A 144 by Franklin G. Clement, 56-year-old Lake Forest, Ill., broker, was the target as the second half of the original field of 385 started play today in the United States Seniors' Golf Assn. championship.

Clement, playing in the tournament in which the minimum age is 55, shot even par in his two rounds over the Apawamis Club's par 72 course. On Tuesday he posted a 73 and came back yesterday with a 71.

Defending champion John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, faded out of the picture with 152.

Marty's Pilot, owned by John Martindale of Williamsport and driven by Porter Martin of Circleville, won a camera decision over two other pacers in a three-horse photo finish at Hilliards Raceway Wednesday night.

The winner was clocked in 2:07 3-5, his best time, in the fourth race, a 28 Class Pace. Marty's Pilot barely nosed out Dixie K and Lite Direct, climaxing a five-horse stretch duel.

This was the second victory in as many nights for Martin. On opening night Tuesday, he won the Class C Pace (Classified) with his own entry, Connie Brewer. His time that night, 2:09 2-5, is also the best clocked by the pacer.

Another well known driver, who has competed in this area, ended up in the money Tuesday. Eddie Boyer drove Newsman to a first in the 22 Class Pace's first heat and second in the second heat.

A crowd of 2,010 saw Wednesday night's events. Dutch Parlay, owned by A. A. Coder of Cardington, won the winner's purse in the featured trot.

Giambra To Delay Challenging Champ

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Joey Giambra wants a couple of more fights under his belt before he hurls any challenges at middleweight champion Ray Robinson and the top contenders in the talent-laden division.

The 160-pound class is the big bread winner for boxing's promoters these days. And Giambra, 24, fits neatly into the picture.

A high ranking contender two years ago when he went into the Army, Giambra showed that he's getting set to vault back into the top ten. He slammed out a close but unanimous 10-round decision over John L. Sullivan of England here last night.

Olympic Horse Tests Upset By Barn Fire

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Horses' worst enemies, fire and smoke, threw a cloud of uncertainty over today's final stage of the three-day event in the Equestrian Olympic games.

A gutted building in the stable area told its own story of near disaster. The building, used for dressage training, went up in flames last night.

Dozens of Olympic horses from 29 nations, stabled only a few yards away, were hurriedly evacuated as smoke screened the barracks.

The big question today was how badly did the smoke and sudden change in training routine upset the finely tuned horses. Nearly 40 of them were put out to grass in a local park until the smoke cleared.

The three-day event ends with today's show jumping. The test is to demonstrate that on a day after tremendous effort in the endurance competition the horses have retained that suppleness and energy needed in ordinary jumping competition.

Britain went into the final day leading in the team competition with 311.48 penalty points. Germany was second with 401.91 and Canada third with 532.72.

The United States, along with teams from 10 other countries, were disqualified yesterday when at least one of their riders didn't complete the 21¾-mile course made muddy and treacherous by rain.

'Old Man' Hogan Is Center Of Controversy At U.S. Open

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The "old man" and a few young men were the only controversial subjects today as the 56th U.S. Open Golf Championship—a tournament that gives real promise of being the biggest and best ever held—got under way on the lush east course of Rochester's Oak Hill Club.

"The old man" is a tag Dick Mayer hung on Ben Hogan — a great golfer who may or may not have seen his best playing days and who is here trying to win an unprecedented fifth Open title.

The sturdy little man from Texas has stirred up more discussions among the players themselves and the multitude of fans than any other of the 162 players.

Some think he's the man to beat and that the long, 6,902-yard, par 70 Oak Hill course is just the kind for him. Others figure that age—Ben will be 44 in August—and the effects he still feels from his near-fatal automobile accident several years ago slowed Hogan's competitive pace so he can't outlast the strong-legged youngsters in this rugged event.

The young men are the caddies, whose peeve against tournament officials came to light Wednesday when Sam Snead was denied the use of his long-time bag toter, Jimmy Steed.

Snead was more than slightly scorched at the change, ordered by U.S. Golf Assn. officials because Steed had not been assigned through the regular caddy pool.

"I've had this fellow all week and now I get a new man. What do they care who caddies for who? Somebody snitched on me," the West Virginia walloper protested.

Steed, who has caddied for Snead some 22 years, got a regular job here, remained out of the original pool drawing and was listed as first alternate. Snead then dismissed the caddy he had drawn and was given the man he wanted. USGA officials decided that wasn't quite cricket.

Some of the other caddies asserted that the rule of a blind draw for caddies had been violated in other instances and that favored youngsters had been assigned to certain top players.

If somebody did "snitch" on Snead, it might have been a mistake. An angry Sam might be a lot harder to beat than a serene Sammy over the tough 72 hole grind. He still has about the finest swing in the game and his booming drives should count for a lot at Oak Hill. If he can sink a few putts, he should be a contender for the one big title he never has won.

It comes down to putting in Hogan's case, too. Mayer, for one, thinks the "old man" has lost his putting touch to a certain extent.

"He doesn't hit the ball firmly enough to putt well on slow greens," Dick said. "He'll do a lot better on fast greens—and you can bet they'll be plenty fast here."

Hogan's answer to that was "I never was a good putter. I've been working too hard for this tournament. I'm awfully tired and not playing well at all."

Only a year ago, after losing the Open playoff to Jack Fleck, Hogan said he never again would work so hard in preparing for a tournament. But he came here over a week in advance to practice and instead of resting Wednesday, as he often does, he played nine holes, spent considerable time hitting shots on the practice ground, then put in a half hour on the putting green.

The players almost unanimously termed Oak Hill a "fair" but not easy test of golf. It has several long par four holes which call for perfect shots to get home and one 602-yard par five with plenty of chances for trouble.

There's no murderously deep rough, but a player who wanders far from the fairways likely will find he can't make his shots stick on the slick greens. There are trees lining many of the holes and a profusion of white-sanded traps guards the greens. Its normal par is a stroke or so over the 35-35—70 listed on the tournament card.

There have been some scores in the 60's, as usual, during practice, but the consensus is that a 280 total—four par rounds, will take the $6,000 top money Saturday night.

If there's a tie it will be decided by an 18-hole playoff Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. (EST). The playoff, if any, as well as the rounds are to be televised nationally (NBC).

Chances Good For Anglers This Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Good weather the next few days may provide the best fishing of the year for the weekend, the Ohio Division of Wildlife reported today.

The outlook by sections:

Northwest—Practically all lakes and streams are in good condition with considerable numbers of various kinds of fish being taken East Harbor in Ottawa County has been producing largemouth bass and bluegills. Lake St. Marys is in good condition with crappies and catfish being taken. Oxbow Lake in Defiance County is in good condition with bass and bluegills reported.

East Central and Southeast — Most streams in excellent condition, with the exception of Wills Creek and parts of the Muskingum River. Most lakes including Burr Oak, Seneca, Clouse, Hope, Alma and parts of Buckeye, Atwood, Leesville and Piedmont are in fine shape. Bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish are being reported taken in large numbers from most of these lakes.

Southwest — Report for most lakes and streams is clear and normal with bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish being taken in large numbers. Such lakes as Kiser, Stonelick, Cowan, Indian and Loramie should provide good fishing.

Escaped Prisoner Pledges Return

MANNING, S.C. (AP) — Clarendon County Sheriff T. S. Jackson is hopefully saving a cell for an escaped prisoner who left him this note:

"I finally made a key to open the door. I'll be back."

Also missing is a 12-gauge shotgun taken from the sheriff's car.

Jackson said the escapee, 24-year-old Johnny Edward Ard, was sentenced for auto theft, grand larceny, housebreaking and theft of auto parts.

Sixty-five per cent of major leaguers are right-handed batters, according to the Official Encyclopedia of Baseball.

MOTORIST KILLED IN COLLISION OF 2 CARS ON KINGSTON PIKE

RESCUED after being trapped by the undertow at Ocean beach, San Francisco, 16-year-old William Badt is carried to safety by policeman Harold Eliaser and an unidentified passerby who stripped to his shorts and plunged into the surf. The youth was treated for submersion at a hospital and released.

New Test Is Seen Saving Many Women From Surgery

CHICAGO (AP)—A look-see test can save many women from unnecessary surgery to remove the womb. It is done with a pencil-thin instrument that permits direct vision of the interior of the womb or uterus.

With light from a tiny bulb on the end of the instrument, the physician can see whether tumors are really present that call for a hysterectomy, or removal of the uterus. Photographs can be taken through it.

Hundreds of American women daily have hysterectomies. Their tumors are quite often found to be a benign or harmless kind, fibroid tumors, growing in such a way that they could not cause trouble. Many of th[illegible]re still able to bear ch[illegible]Sur[illegible]have

The unique instru[illegible]steroscope, is being [illegible]wn in an exhibit at the American Medical Assn.'s annual meeting by Drs. William B. Norment and C. Henry Sikes of Greensboro, N. C.

Fibroid (noncancerous) tumors are often found during physical exams.

IF THEY ARE not large and are growing only on the outside wall of the uterus, they can be left alone, Dr. Norment said. The woman can still bear children. These fibroid tumors disappear after menopause or change of life.

The instrument developed by Dr. Norment gives direct vision to learn whether the tumor is on the inside.

If not, the operation could be avoided. It can also show whether the bleeding might be due to hormonal upsets that can be treated medically.

Established methods of exploring the interior of the uterus can at times miss because there is no direct vision, Dr. Norment said.

N-S Turnpike Survey Stalled By Questions

COLUMBUS (AP)—Ohio Highway Department plans for an engineering study of two legs of a proposed north-south expressway were blocked yesterday.

The State Highway Construction Council said it will not consider a highway department request for $5,125,000 to finance the study until the department furnishes more information.

Highway Director S. O. Linzell requested the funds to finance preliminary plans for a 38-mile stretch of highway between Cincinnati and Dayton and an 80-mile leg from Conneaut to the east-west toll road near Cleveland.

A spokesman for the council says it wants to know:

Will sufficient amounts be left in the highway construction and bond retirement fund? The fund would finance plans on projects programmed for 1956-57.

Will funds be left to meet the following contingencies: Unexpected disaster on a major thoroughfare, provision for highways for new industries or relocation of a highway by another state requiring new construction in Ohio?

What future projects on major non-interstate thoroughfares would have to be dropped because of such an expenditure?

What recommendations have been made for financing the two expressway legs?

2 Truman Aides Found Guilty In Income Tax 'Fix'

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Matthew J. Connelly and T. Lamar Caudle, onetime government officials, were convicted today by a federal jury on charges of conspiracy in connection with an income tax evasion case.

The jury of eight men and four women reported they reached a verdict after deliberating 8 hours and 43 minutes.

Connelly, 48, White House appointments secretary under former President Truman, and Caudle, 52, former Justice Department tax head who was fired by Truman, could be sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000 each.

They were convicted of conspiring to defraud the government by trying to sidetrack the criminal prosecution of Irving Sachs, a St. Louis shoe manufacturer. Sachs eventually was indicted and on a plea of guilty was fined $40,000 for income tax evasion.

Traffic Courts 'Lack Respect'

COLUMBUS (AP)—Common Pleas Judge Otis R. Hess of Cincinnati said today the public attitude that traffic courts are "cash registers established to bring in money" must be broken down.

Hess, who established a reputation for sentencing traffic offenders to jail terms while he was a traffic court judge in Cincinnati, spoke at the third annual All-Ohio Traffic Court Conference.

"Traffic courts are not commanding respect of the communities," the judge said, adding:

"We must try cases on merits and not according to any policy of convictions."

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government has changed the name of the Molotov automobile factory to the Gorky auto works.

Tighter Security Law Is Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Mundt (R-SD) predicted today swift approval by Congress of a bill to plug what he termed "the great hole shot into our internal security" by the Supreme Court.

Mundt and Sens. Eastland (D-Miss) and McCarthy (R-Wis) introduced yesterday similar bills designed to negate the court's 6-3 ruling on Monday that the government may not summarily dismiss on security grounds workers whose jobs do not directly concern national security.

Another Republican, former Sen. Harry P. Cain of Washington, agreed that the Supreme Court "did shoot a hole" in the loyalty-security program, but said it was "right where it should be shot."

Cain, appointed by President Eisenhower to the Subversive Activities Control Board, has become a vigorous critic of the program.

At the end of two days of testimony before a Senate judiciary subcommittee yesterday, one man Cain cited was reoffered a job he had lost on security grounds

* * *

SEN. HENNINGS (D-Mo) said the subcommittee he heads will explore other cases which Cain described as injustices or at least questionable.

Cain on Tuesday had termed an example of "fascism" the case of an ex-GI who had lost an American Red Cross job after the Army raised security questions against him.

Last night the Defense Department announced the Red Cross has offered to rehire the man, Irving I. August of Seattle, a World War II and Korean veteran. "I'll be delighted to go back to work," August said in Seattle.

He attributed his troubles to what he said was brief membership in the Progressive party in 1948. He said he dropped out because he felt "it was being influenced by Communists."

August said he wants a chance to clear his name. The Pentagon said August, dropped by the Red Cross March 26 when the Army refused to clear him for overseas service, will be given a hearing under its industrial security review system. This applies to workers of civilian contractors doing work for the military.

The outcome will determine whether August may go overseas for the Red Cross. Meantime, the Pentagon said, he will be restored without loss of pay to his former Red Cross job in Seattle.

Navy Recruit's Death Laid To 'Heat Stroke'

GREAT LAKES, Ill. (AP) — The death of a Navy recruit after undergoing a rifle drill was termed by a Navy board "a very unfortunate occurrence but not due to any culpability of Navy or any personnel on the base."

Maurice G. Everett, 17, of Lansing, Mich., died May 22, eight hours after he collapsed on duty at Great Lakes Naval Training Center.

The board of inquiry announced that Everett died of a "heat stroke established by autopsy."

Everett's superiors said he had been assigned to the rifle drill in a "retraining section" because he "talked back" to an officer who found him off limits in a barracks and ordered him out.

During the rifle drill Everett complained of arm cramps. He was assigned to a wash room cleaning detail when he said he was tired. The temperature that day reached 90.

Later, Everett was found unconscious in a washroom and died that evening in a base hospital.

Fan Blade Slits Throat Of Boy, 9

DENVER (AP) — Richard Perdham, 9, was critically injured when an electric fan blade broke and sailed across the room, cutting his throat.

The boy was in the living room of his home with the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Perdham.

Perdham reported his son lost seven pints of blood, but was given transfusions at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Steubenville Opens Drive On Pinballs

STEUBENVILLE (AP) — Prosecutor Bernard T. McCann today instructed law enforcement offfcials to ban the 270 pinball machines in Jefferson County.

LeRoy Schell, Steubenville solicitor, said the $50 license fee paid by the owners of 150 machines in the city would not be returned.

Air Force Goal: 600 B52 Jets

Military Hopes 1959 To See Big Fleet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Increasing its goal by 100, the Air Force now hopes to have 600 long-range B52 jet bombers by 1959.

Lt. Gen. C. S. Irvine, deputy chief of staff in charge of Air Force production, gave the figures in secret testimony released in heavily censored form yesterday by a special armed services subcommittee.

In his testimony, Irvine also expressed the "personal feeling" that this country still holds an over-all lead over Russia.

Irvine told the subcommittee that the old goal of 500 of the B52 bombers was increased recently when production goals were boosted from 17 to 20 a month. The planes, costing about $8½ million each, now are being produced at the rate of about six a month.

Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, head of the Strategic Air Command, was quoted Monday as asking a Senate appropriations subcommittee for $3.8 billion of additional funds in each of the next four or five years to provide more planes, bases and men to handle them.

* * *

MEANWHILE, plans were made for Gen. Nathan Twining and nine Air Force officers, including an operations expert for the Strategic Bomber Force, to land in Russia June 23 for as good a look as they can get at Soviet airpower.

They were invited to watch a fly-over of samples from the Reds' swiftly expanding and thoroughly modern jet air force. How much more they may see is in doubt.

Polio Vaccine Said OK During Epidemic Peak

CHICAGO (AP)—A team of Navy doctors reported today that Salk polio vaccine apparently can be given during the height of an epidemic with little or no paralysis-provoking effect of its own.

Capt. John R. Seal of the Naval Medical Corps reported on the vaccination of more than 26,010 children and married adults in Navy and Marine service families in Honolulu during what he called a "rather severe" polio epidemic there last fall.

The joint report, made with Naval Capt. Robert S. Poos of Pearl Harbor, Hawaii, and Dr. Neal Nathanson of Atlanta, Ga., was prepared for the annual meeting of the American Medical Assn.

Dr. Seal said some doctors feared that the act of vaccination during an epidemic might provoke paralysis in persons who might already have been infected with polio virus.

Local Resident Hits At 'Racing' Along Route 22

Only Legislature's Action Can Boost Fine For Speeding

A Lancaster Pike resident today declared that speeding motorists make a "race track" out of Route 22 east of Circleville.

G. Samuel Gentzel did not center his complaint on Pickaway County drivers, but he made it plain he is heartily in accord with the "idea campaign" launched by the Ohio Department of Highway Safety. The department is anxious to get the public's reaction to the question:

"What do you suggest to tame the speeding driver?"

Cooperating with the campaign, The Herald will accept replies in writing, and possibly will publish some of them. A few may also be relayed to the state highway safety branch. All letters to be used must carry the signature of the writer.

* * *

IN HIS letter on "wildcats on the highway", Gentzel said:

"Money will tame anything. The law has always used this system, of handling our fines to offenders.

"Let there be a law of $100 and costs fines for speeders. They kill more people than the drunk driver.

"We have a race track out on Route 22 east—mostly out-of-staters though."

In public comment on the statewide campaign yesterday, Chairman Darrell Hatfield of the Pickaway County Traffic Safety Committee criticized what he said are easy court penalties handed out to drivers arrested for speeding.

Heavier penalties in court, he declared, are the "only answer" to help reduce speeding on the highways.

* * *

COURTS in most instances already are imposing the maximum penalty under existing law, a fine of $50. The fine is the only possible penalty. No jail sentence may be imposed nor may a driver's license be lifted. If a heavier penalty than a $50 is to be imposed on speeders then existing law must be changed. This change must come through legislative actoin.

Persons who favor heavier penalties on speeders should contact their representatives in the Ohio legislature and request a revision of the law dealing with speeders and reckless operators of vehicles.

When an auto operator is accused of reckless operation the maximum penalty is a fine of $50 and suspension of the driver's license for a maximum period of one year.

'Illegal' Advertising Bringing Lawsuits

AKRON (AP)—Mrs. Dorothy Madigan of Silver Lake, who thought she struck it rich with a uranium lode last year, yesterday sued two companies for alleging using her name in advertising geiger counters.

She asked common pleas court to give her $25,000 for "invasion of privacy." Mrs. Madigan contended the Hower Department Store and radio station WAKR used her name without permission.

Mrs. Madigan's uranium, 60 miles south of Ottawa, Canada, is still being tested.

Daddy Gets Kiss And Also Mumps

CONWAY, N. C. (AP)—"Daddy, come kiss me," welcomed four-year-old Barry when father Harry Jenkins came home from work.

Daddy obliged. Then Barry told his daddy that the doctor had left only a short while before — "daddy, I've got the mumps." So has Barry's twin brother, Larry.

Today, the twins have daddy at home with them—all three pairs of jaws swollen with mumps.

Chief's Recovery Labeled 'Miracle'

Dulles Joins Bonn Chancellor In Conference In Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower told German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in a 10-minute hospital meeting today he hopes for early action on reunification of Germany "to liberate the 17 million Germans" in the eastern zone.

Eisenhower, clad in pajamas and sitting up in a chair, received the 80-year-old German leader in a dramatic goodbye in the President's room in Walter Reed Army Hospital.

With them were Mrs. Eisenhower, Scretary of State Dulles, and interpreter, Henry Kellerman of the State Department's German affairs section.

Adenauer left immediately afterward for Washington's National Airport to fly to New York City to continue his U. S. visit.

It was Eisenhower's first meeting with anybody outside of his personal and official families and medical personnel since his operation for an abdominal obstruction last Saturday.

* * *

THE SESSION followed what the doctors reported as Eisenhower's best night since he underwent surgery.

Both Adenauer and Dulles described the President's recovery as "a miracle."

"I have asked the doctor to explain this miracle," Adenauer said, "and he has said it is a healthy organism."

Dulles said Eisenhower "personally brought up" the question of German reunification.

"It was a very good talk," Dulles said. "The President expressed not only the sentiment that he feels toward the chancellor and that the American people feel toward the German people, but he expressed the hope that action would soon be taken to liberate the 17 million Germans now in the eastern zone of Germany."

"It was a very interesting experience to be at this meeting," Dulles added. "It was almost a miracle that it could come so quickly after such an operation."

Adenauer said he was happy to have had the talk which gave him a chance, he said, of seeing the President "in such excellent shape."

"I must say that I would not have thought it possible that a person so soon after an operation could look that way, talk that way and participate so vividly in a conversation."

Probe Ordered On 'Kickbacks'

4 Cleveland Officials Targets Of State Aide

CLEVELAND (AP)—Secretary of State Ted W. Brown today ordered an investigation of alleged "salary kickbacks" by employes of four elected Cuyahoga County officials.

The officials are Engineer Albert S. Porter, Auditor John J. Carney, Clerk of Courts Leonard Fuerst and Recorder Frank S. Day.

Brown ordered the election board here to investigate alleged election law violations by candidates who have filed sworn statements of receipts and expenditures of political funds. He told election Board Chairman Ben C. Green to turn over his findings to the county prosecutor for possible grand jury action. The four are Democrats. Brown is a Republican.

The Cleveland News said, "It is estimated that more than $200,000 has been collected in the two per cent 'voluntary' political contributions from county employes for alleged political campaign purposes to benefit the four elected county officials."

* * *

PORTER LISTED $1,909 in receipts in his expense statement, filed in the primary election. He has 500 employes, some of whom say they have been forced to pay two per cent of their salary to a campaign fund, the News said.

Carney failed to itemize or report collections when he ran for reelection in November 1954.

Dutch Papers Deny Influence Of 'Healer'

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Dutch newspapers today denied speculation abroad that a faith healer's reported influence over Queen Juliana might force her abdication.

The local editors, who had held off several days on the story after it broke in a German news magazine, branded reports of the faith healer's sway over Juliana an invasion of the royal privacy.

They denied there was any constitutional conflict between the Queen and the government.

The reports had no apparent effect on the Dutch parliamentary elections yesterday. The Communist newspaper DeWaarheid printed the story here first in apparent hope of touching off a political revolt. But the Reds in the latest balloting lost 2 of the 6 seats they had held.

Soviet Clerics Delayed By Bomb Scare

NEW YORK (AP) — Eight homeward-bound Russian church leaders were delayed four hours by a phony bomb scare at Idlewild Airport but took off early today after the all-clear was given.

The Russian clergymen and 29 other passengers left on a KLM Royal Dutch Airlines Constellation at 1:50 a. m. for Amsterdam, Holland, after a search of the plane by the police bomb squad.

Before the bomb scare, Metropolitan Nikolai of Moscow had told newsmen at the airport: "We don't have as wide a range of activities as you do here because we work alongside of the atheists who carry on their anti-religious propaganda, and we have to meet it."

When asked about this apparent reference to Russian Communists, the Metropolitan said the "atheists" present a "formidable" obstacle to churches in Russia.

The Russian clergymen were invited to the United States by the National Council of Churches, the nation's largest Protestant and Eastern Orthodox group. A group of American church leaders visited Russia recently.

Bridegroom Falls Out Of Airliner

CHARLOTTE N. C. (AP) — President Airline officials were trying to find out today how a honeymooning bridegroom happened to drop to his death from a plane more than a mile in the air.

The victim, identified as Oren A. Pruitt, 38, of Charlotte, was said by neighbors to have been married Tuesday — just a day before his death — to Blande Tidd, also of Charlotte.

Pruitt's body was found in a church graveyard near Shelby after he plummeted from the plane while it was flying at an estimated 6,000 feet.

John Newell, airline agent here, said Pruitt apparently was swept out of the plane when a cabin door opened unexpectedly.

Homer Queen Second Victim Within 4 Days

County Fatality Toll In Traffic Accidents For June Now Four

Pickaway County's second traffic fatality within four days, and the fourth in less than half a month, was recorded this morning on the Kingston Pike. This marked the county's eighth highway death so far this year.

Victim of the crash, Homer Queen, 77, of Circleville Route 3, died at 9:44 a. m. in Berger Hospital. Exact cause of death has not been determined, according to the sheriff's department.

The car Queen was driving was struck by an auto driven by John E. Hamilton Jr., 23, of 455½ E. Main St. The accident occurred at 8:20 a. m. south of the Circleville-Tarlton Rd., near Scippo Creek, in Pickaway Township.

Hamilton said he was traveling south at an estimated speed of 60 miles per hour, the sheriff's department report stated. He said he noticed Queen's car, which had pulled off the road, suddenly start to make a left turn into a farm lane.

* * *

SHERIFF'S DEPUTIES reported that Hamilton's car skidded approximately 180 feet before striking Queen's auto.

Deputies said an eyewitness bore out Hamilton's version of the accident. Homer Adams, of 316 E. Logan St., described by deputies as a friend of Hamilton's, said Hamilton had passed him about a mile before the accident scene. Adams reportedly said that he saw Queen's car at first pulled off the road and then starting to make the turn in front of Hamilton.

Queen, a farmer, had lived on the farm near where the accident took place. He had moved from there only a few weeks ago to a small farm north of Circleville along Route 23, according to sheriff's deputies.

The elderly man was found underneath his car when deputies arrived at the scene. However, they reported that he had not been pinned under the vehicle but apparently had been thrown out by the impact. Hamilton's car struck Queen's on the driver's side.

Hamilton was only slightly injured. He received a laceration of the left arm, a bumped right knee and a sprained right arm.

* * *

DEPUTIES SAID that, at the completion of their investigation, they will present all of the facts to Pickaway County Prosecutor William Ammer. Hamilton was not immediately detained by the deputies.

"$25,000 STAMP COLLECTION SEEN FROM ONE MILE AWAY"

My cousin Stanley started saving stamps about ten years ago, but not the kind you put on letters. He saved the Government Stamps from Liquor Bottles and cigarette packs. He finally got enough to fill his album, but by this time he was so run down from all that drinking and smoking he had to sell the collection to pay his Hospital Bill. But as a boy I was interested in Philately and by the time I was 16 I had saved up over 30,000 postage stamps from all over the world. They were so valuable I didn't want to put them in an album so I carried them with me all the time in my hip pocket, and eventually they got all stuck together in one big lump. So I started a new hobby—collecting lumps.

World Today

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press
News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Like a tailor who thinks the suit's too big, Secretary of State Dulles walked briskly up to the subject of neutrality and went snip, snip. None of this neutrality stuff for him.

"Immoral," he said. "Shortsighted." But this suit had been made by President Eisenhower. And Vice President Nixon put the pockets on it. Eisenhower had defended the right of nations to be neutral. Nixon said such nations are "our moral equals."

This had caused confusion. Where did it leave those nations which had lined up with the United States? Then Dulles apparently thought he'd straighten it out. Instead of lessening the confusion, he added to it.

On June 6, a few hours before the House started debate on Eisenhower's $4,900,000,000 foreign aid bill, the President walked into his news conference and made a little speech defending the bill. He used no notes.

There had been discontent in Congress over helping neutrals in the cold war. Then, as if urging Congress not to be too harsh on them, Eisenhower said that if a nation stays neutral and is attacked, the world is outraged. But if it gets into a military alliance and is then attacked, the world may say it had what was coming to it, Eisenhower said.

This was startling. The United States had spent much time and money trying to persuade nations in Europe and Asia to join military pacts with this country. Was Eisenhower now saying they were wrong when they joined?

It didn't take long for Eisenhower's White House aides to try to explained what he meant. A statement issued the next day said that while Eisenhower thinks some nations are justified in being neutral, he thinks they'd be safer being U.S. allies.

That night, June 7, Nixon made a speech showing the same tolerance toward neutrals. He tried to explain why they want to be neutral. Speaking of them, he said "we must deal with other people as our moral and spiritual equals."

But Dulles didn't show any tolerance for neutrals when he made a prepared speech in Iowa June 9. He said the 42 treaties this country has with other nations "abolish, as between the parties, the principle of neutrality, which pretends that a nation can best gain safety for itself by being indifferent to the fate of others."

He added: "This has increasingly become an obsolete conception and, except under very unusual circumstances, it is an immoral and shortsighted conception."

This seemed like an absolute contradiction of what Eisenhower and Nixon had said. But when Dulles was quizzed about it at his news conference Tuesday, all he seemed able to say was that he saw no conflict between his views and Eisenhower's. Newsmen gave up when they asked him flatly if he agreed with Eisenhower and they got the same answer.

A-Power Seaplane To Be Built, Claim

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Convair will start construction of an atomic - powered seaplane here early next year, the San Diego Evening Tribune reported.

The plane will be designed to retaliate with an H-bomb from some sheltered ocean hideaway even if a nuclear surprise attack has wiped out this nation's entire land-based bomber force.

Rep. Bob Wilson (R-Calif) announced the project after a conference with Navy officials in Washington, the newspaper said.

Money for the project is in the Navy budget for the fiscal year starting July 1. The sum is secret.

In Advertising

You have read a lot of "crazy" advertising in the car business. But you know that we, nor any dealer, can "give away" a new car. We do give you a fair Golden Rule deal. And right now we need late model trade-ins for our A-1 used car lot.

AND: we give fine, personal service to each of our customers. Also we offer Ford Buyers a free "REGISTERED OWNER" guarantee that has two (dollar conserving) benefits:

1. It protects you against spending out any large sums of money for major breakdowns for three years or 34,000 miles.

2. It guarantees to guard you against excessive depreciation loss. We keep a complete service file on the car you purchase—this file makes it more valuable later on when you trade again.

Imaginary Disaster Hits 'Boys State'

CAMP PERRY, Ohio (AP)—They had an imaginary disaster, imaginary martial law, and a real cleanup at Buckeye Boys State Wednesday.

A thunderstorm hit the American Legion-operated school where 991 boys of 16 and 17 are trying to learn how to run a government.

Mayor Alvin Budd of the City of Cobb, with 50 boy residents, pretended storm damage had made his city a disaster area.

At Budd's request, Gov. Richard Gorsuch proclaimed a "disaster" and declared "martial law," which lasted an hour and a half.

In that time Fire Chief Mike Morrissey and a crew thoroughly cleaned out 13 of the 24 cabins in Cobb. Morrissey then announced an imaginary storm damage of "around $500,000."

The governor asked the Legislature to pass an act making the State Highway Patrol legal. It seems Col. James Bower of Massillon and Capt. Lowell Gerwin of Bradner have been operating the 72-member patrol without enabling legislation.

Electronics Chiefs Split On Prospects

Economic Future Gets Close Study By Vital And Touchy Industry

By SAM DAWSON

CHICAGO (AP) — The electronics industry — sprawling all the way from parts for guided missiles to TV sets and automatic washers—is eyeing the general economy warily today. Here, where perhaps a third of the nation's output centers, they stress a sharp cleavage in outlook.

That part of the industry dealing with the public directly — TV-radio and many home applances —is on the soft side, waiting for the consumer to regain all the confidence in the future he showed last year.

But that part supplying industry and the military sees nothing to fear just now but the remote chance of a real recession. Industry's growth plans, its drive toward greater mechanization and automation, a fairly stable defense demand, give this portion of the electronics industry one of the brightest outlooks in the nation's economic picture, at present so splashed with light and shadow.

Sales of TV sets and many home appliances are down from last year, and inventories are heavy, although some of the TV companies here say rather smugly that they are in a better position than the auto industry because they played the production side of the game more cautiously. Plant shutdowns and layoffs are sprinkled through that part of the industry that deals with the consumer. And price cutting at the retail level is notable.

Some of the companies here have full lines. They make TV and radio and also ranges, refrigerators, built-in ovens, washing machines. Others specialize, say in just TV and radio. In both categories, most supply both the consumer and industry and the military, making up in industrial and defense sales. Some show curious deviations in the ratio of profits to sales.

Motorola reports higher sales but slightly lower earnings in the first quarter of this year. Zenith Radio reports both sales and earnings lower. Admiral, with a drop in sales, reports higher first quarter profits.

Industry spokesmen have a number of explanations for the slump in TV set sales, especially of the larger sets. The consumer may be playing it cautious just now, disturbed by recession talk, or he may already have all the time payments he can handle.

Some in the industry blame "another color scare," like the one late in 1953 that chilled the Christmas sales of black and white sets. That expectation of color supplanting black and white failed to stand up, and late in 1954 the customers were back buying again. And 1955 has gone down as a record year. Now there's big talk again of color TV finally getting off the ground this fall or next year at the latest.

Rough going in the industry has led to a number of mergers and to the folding of smaller companies. About 25 have dropped out in the last three years, a number just recently. The top 10 are capturing a higher percentage of the total business. Some here predict that this year will see 7,400,000 sets produced — a drop of 300,000 from last year — but that the 10 largest manufacturers will make 6,230,000 and the next 10 will produce 1,000,000, leaving only 170,000 to be made by the remaining 30 others in the field.

The electronics industry as a whole, despite any stumbling now and then by one of its divisions dealing with the fickle public, looks for steady growth. Leaders estimate it will do a six billion dollar business this year, compared with 300 million in 1939. Defense needs will take about half of this year's total, and commercial and industrial purchasing of electronic production will come to around 800 million.

Current Problem: Removal Of Snow

BOSTON (AP)—While the temperature in Boston read 91 degrees, Massachusetts Governor Herter signed into law an act making an additional $175,000 available for snow removal work.

The money was for payment of back charges for removal of last winter's heavy snows.

Licking Slayer's Case Gets Study

COLUMBUS (AP)— The Ohio Supreme Court has docketed the appeal of Earl Sullivan, 33, Licking County wife-slayer, from his first degree murder conviction.

Sullivan, scheduled to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair on Friday, received an indefinite stay of execution on May 31 when the court received his appeal.

Sullivan was convicted for fatally shooting his estranged wife, Valeria, on Oct. 29, 1955, in Utica, Licking County. He claimed his wife shot herself.

8,500 Ohioans Due On Reserve Setup

COLUMBUS (AP)—The chief of the Ohio Military District says an estimated 8,500 Ohioans will take part in U. S. Army Reserve summer camp training programs.

Brig. Gen. Martin J. Morin said the figure represents reserve units scattered throughout the state, and is one of the all-time highs for summer training reserve encampments, nearly doubling last year's participation.

Training areas are in Maryland, Virginia, Kentucky, Pennsylvania, Delaware, North Carolina, Illinois and the Erie Depot in Ohio.

Idle Pay Claims Dropping Sharply

COLUMBUS (AP)—New claims for unemployment compensation showed a marked decrease for the week ended June 9, but continuing claims increased, the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reports.

The bureau said preliminary figures showed 7,998 claims of newly unemployed were filed compared with 10,868 for the week ended June 2.

The average of new claims for June of last year was 6,203, and the average of continuing claims was 39,106.

NOT CROP FAILURE RELIEF

SECRETARY Benson says the soil bank is not crop failure relief but a long range program of reducing surpluses. While some land where crops are failing may be banked this year, that will not be the central motive.

The need of less major crop production is evident. Despite government sale of about $1.8 billion of surplus crops in the past year, a disposal increase of 15 percent over the previous year, the glut in government storage keeps growing.

It is estimated that after this year's harvest there may be 30 million more bushels of wheat in government hands, 150 million bushels more corn and 3.5 million bales more cotton.

These mounting surpluses come from less acres as fertilizer and weather produce larger yields. The aim of the soil bank is another large decrease of productive acres.

Many farmers, of course, want to plant more and then bank only those acres where crops do not do well. Congress might try to oblige them next session. But as of now Benson is sticking to the original concept of the soil bank.

A WATER BOOM

HAVING discovered what appears to be an inexhaustible sheet of water under parts of the Texas Panhandle, farmers are beginning to convert what was once known as the Great American Desert into the garden spot of the Southwest.

Digging down 200 to 400 feet, at a cost that ranges as high as $17,000 a well, farmers in spots are overcoming arid conditions. Well irrigated farms produce up to 60 bushels of wheat an acre while there is a total crop failure on unirrigated farms.

The march of irrigation wells is proceeding right up to the Oklahoma Panhandle. There is already some deep well irrigation in Kansas and the Arkansas River underflow supplies great volumes of shallow water.

If there is sufficient underground water across the high plains to provide irrigation, there will certainly be a new deal in agriculture in that dust bowl region. But geologists fear wholesale drilling will result in a dangerous lowering of the water table.

FROM THRONE TO PAYROLL

JUST WHAT pay can an ex-king demand in today's labor market?

This question is raised by the announcement that Michael, who lost what was to have been a lifetime job of kinging in Romania, had accepted work with an American aircraft concern. The man who will be Michael's boss says the onetime boy king will be one of the few crowned heads who will ever make a dime. And on top of that he refuses to say what the ex-king will be paid. The only clue he gives is that the pay will be "more than he's been earning before."

This is Michael's first job outside the one he was born to. So presumably he never has been in the earning class before. That's why the reference to a dime is disturbing. Perhaps that was just a figure of speech. Surely the services of royalty are not to be calculated in such humble coinage as its enters into competition with the laboring classes.

George E. Sokolsky's

These Days

The Constitution fixes the term of the President, when he is to be elected and how. The Constitution makes broad, general provisions as to what is to happen if the President dies in office or is incapacitated or resigns.

Incapacitated is not carefully defined. In contemporary times, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Dwight D. Eisenhower were very sick men while in office; Warren G. Harding died. The United States continues as a nation and the American people continued to thrive despite these regrettable manifestations of the mortality of man.

No physician can guarantee the good health or long life of any man in public office. Dr. Paul Dudley White gave the impression that President Eisenhower is good for another five or ten years. Dr. White knows no more about that than you or I.

When Dr. White was doing all this talking, I was in the hospital, seized by the same type of heart attack that Eisenhower had. I asked my doctors to give me guarantees similar to those which Dr. White apparently gave about President Eisenhower. They refused. And quite rightly. Who are these doctors? God?

For what happened to Eisenhower, could happen to Stevenson, to Harriman, to anybody. Men have been known to go to a doctor for an annual examination, pass top-notch, be congratulated by the doctor, and drop dead on his door-step. Those who shout that every candidate for the Presidency undergo an examination are talking out of their hats.

Such an examination may, and often does not, disclose some trouble, but offers no guarantee that nothing will show up in a few months or for that matter on the very next day. When one passes 50, things begin to wear out and break away and most men in public life have abused their bodies achieving distinction and popularity.

Of course, we might elect a youth to the Presidency, one whose maturity is to be measured by I. Q. tests and the ability to answer questions in a manner that satisfies the ego of a professor.

The fact that President Eisenhower was hit down twice while in office does not mean that he is incapacitated permanently or that he will be struck down a third time or that he will not be struck down, or that his opponents are strong and healthy and will surely outlive him.

About such matters, nobody can know anything. In 1952, Bob Taft was a physically strong figure who was able to travel all over the country making hundreds of speeches. He was examined by a competent physician who found no warrant for restraining him. But he died of a cancer within months.

The objection to General Douglas MacArthur as a Presidential candidate was that he was too old. But here he is four years later strong in body and mind, seemingly ageless. Harry Truman was a well man in office, but nearly died of a disease a year later, and is now travelling the world as a columnist.

None of this proves anything more than that the human body is weak and requires fixing up, cutting away, correcting, adjusting as we go along. The body is such a complex physical and chemical instrument that it is a marvel and a miracle that it works at all, but it does work and even under the most adverse conditions. For instance, Beethoven became deaf early in life.

'Think Break' Brings Trouble

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Harrison Gouch, a University of California psychologist, says "think breaks" should be added to the daily or twice-daily coffee breaks now customary in many offices.

"Workers should be given a think time so that they can sit down and think out their problems without interruption," he said.

The idea sounds attractive on the surface, but it holds hidden perils.

For one thing it might hurt rather than help office morale. A boss who told his employes, "Now we'll all just sit still for 30 minutes and think real hard," might end up with a strike on his hands. If there is anything the average person resents, it is being forced to think.

The virtues of thought on the ordinary job are sometimes exaggerated. Too much thinking in an office could create bedlam. Look at the cow. It is a perfect factory, and delivers a perfect product. And it doesn't think at all. It merely ruminates, which is much more fun than thinking.

There is another objection to the idea of having the whole office force think at once about how to improve the business. Some sneak is bound to cheat. He is going to think, "Now, I wonder how I can get the boss's job." And he might figure out a way, too, on office time.

By and large, it might be better to have a "daydream break," a period during which everybody can relax and dream uninterruptedly about anything he likes. The chances are at least even he'll wind up with ideas at least as good as those he'd get furrowing his brow in the agony of thought.

A correspondent writes to ask whether we agree with Henry David Thoreau's observation that most men lead lives of "quiet desperation . . ."

No, indeed. Thoreau made his remark in the era of strong silent men. Times have changed. Most men today insist on leading lives of quite noisy desperation. A man with a despair now likes to go to a cocktail party and brag out loud about it.

The name-dropper is giving way to the disease - dropper. Folks nowadays like to share the ailments of famous people.

Since President Eisenhower's illness, half a dozen fellows have complained to us of symptoms of ileitis, a malady they never even knew existed until Ike came down with it. In another month it should be as popular as appendicitis.

Our nomination for the heroine of 1956 to date is a gay, 106-year-old lady named Mrs. Tirza Gonzalez of El Paso, Tex.

Mrs. Gonzalez, who can sew all day and doesn't need glasses, likes a hip of wine before breakfast. Later in the afternoon she prefers something "that rasps the throat, like tequlia." She also smokes three packs of cigarettes a day.

Some may look askance at Mrs. Gonzalez, who has outlived five of her seven children, and insist her bad habits will surely shorten her life.

But at 106 a girl certainly can afford to gamble a bit, and all we'd like to know is what brand of tequila she recommends and whether she thinks filtered cigarettes are better than the ordinary kind.

Enchanted Harbor

By D. Worley

SYNOPSIS

Priscilla Paige, who looks like Lauren Bacall, is in Apalachicola, Florida, to claim an unexpected bequest from a great-aunt. Her realistic writer-friend Rita is with her. En route to see Attorney Todd, a fisherman searches the car while they are in a restaurant and a distinguished-looking man observes all three of them with puzzling interest. Todd seems relieved when the girls agree to his keeping the key to Priscilla's newly bequeathed Lookout House, but he suggests a tour of it for the next morning. Now, the distinguished-looking stranger is showing interest in the girls again.

CHAPTER 5

"DON'T SUPPOSE you know who the two girls are?" the distinguished-looking man asked the restaurant cashier.

"Tourists, I reckon, just stopping for lunch. Interested?"

"Curious," the man said. "I just wondered about them. Not sisters, too different looking." His eyes moved over the people in the restaurant. "The older one looked Spanish, don't you think?"

The girl said, "Mr. Duval, you're always asking about people. Every time you come in here, you act like you're looking for someone. Are you?"

Bill Duval smiled. "There's not much to do around here. You get to wondering about people."

"Why don't you get on with writing that book?"

"Have to absorb atmosphere, you know. So many books have been written about Apalachicola, I want to do mine a little differently."

The girl took change from another customer, then turned back to Bill Duval. "No kiddin', Mr. Duval. Are you really writing a book? You're always riding around in that red car—and you fish so much. Thought maybe you were having a vacation and were joking about the book." She took care of another customer, then turned back to him. "No use looking out that door hoping to see that girl in the red pants. They're probably down about Carrabelle by now."

Bill was smiling. "You're mistaken there. At least, their green Dodge is parked in front of the Gibson Hotel. I think I'll go down that way."

When Bill Duval reached the hotel the green car was not there. He went inside and took a stool at the little bar that was screened off from the lobby. He asked for a lime rickey, then said nonchalantly to the man behind the bar, "Thought I saw more guests coming in. From Connecticut, weren't they?"

"Connecticut?" The man went over and looked at the register. "Nope. Nobody from Connecticut registered. Maybe you mean those two girls who came in awhile ago. But they're from New York."

"Oh. New York?"

"Yeah." The man looked at the register again. "Heard the older one call the other girl Priscilla. Here it is, Priscilla Paige. The other . . . Hmm. It's a queer name and I don't know how to pronounce it. Z-e-r-i-t-a Lambert."

"Zerita." Bill Duval turned the glass in his hands absently. "Sounds Spanish, wouldn't you say?"

"Sort of," the man agreed. "That other girl didn't call her that, though. I remember she was saying Rita."

"That's short for Zerita. Do they plan to be here for awhile?"

"The older one said they might want the room for one night, maybe longer, that she'd let me know tomorrow. Guess they're travelers, restin' up. It's a long way from New York."

"I didn't see their car outside."

"They sent the car across the street to the service station to be washed and serviced. They asked me where they could get a nice steak, and I told them to go over to Maud's. They're dressing now, I guess."

"I see." Bill finished his drink and slapped some change on the counter.

He went out on the long porch that surrounded the hotel on two sides and sat down in a rocking chair, wondering if he would have to wait long before the girls came down. In view of what the man had said, they would probably go to Maud's for dinner. If they were from New York, why did the car they were driving have a Connecticut tag? And if they were from Connecticut, why had they registered from New York? When Red Gallagher had hung around their car, as though interested, that girl with the odd name, Zerita, had come out and picked up a notebook from the front seat. He hadn't noticed it lying there. Could Gallagher have put it there? He opened a small notebook and made a notation just as the two girls came out. Immediately he picked up a magazine and began idly turning the pages, apparently absorbed, but alert to their conversation.

"Rita, let's go over and see if the car's ready." Priscilla looked up and down the street. "It's a strange-looking little town, isn't it? Foreign looking. Doesn't the sun look pretty shining through those palm fronds? It's almost down, and I'm getting hungry again. How about that steak?"

"He said to go across the long bridge over there and that just on the other side we'd find Maud's Tavern."

"I'm sure we won't have to wait long," Priscilla said, as they went down the steps and across the street to the service station.

Bill Duval wrote in his little book—They don't know the town, that's apparent. One of them said they wouldn't have long to wait. Were they talking about the car or something else? He turned back a page and read what he had last written there—Alvarez was talking to that shrimp fisherman soon after the man looked the green Dodge over. And he's driven by here twice. I'll watch and see if they make contact.

The car was ready. Priscilla and Rita turned across the long bridge, the water on either side flame colored from the setting sun. The air had turned cool with approaching night.

"After all, it's November," Rita said. "We should have known it would get cooler after dark. Next time we'll know to bring a coat. It's really gorgeous, isn't it?" Her eyes scanned the pink and gold water. The sun was a red disc above the horizon, shooting up spears of flame.

"It's beautiful!" Priscilla said. "Did you ever see such a sunset? I'm enjoying this so much, Rita. Of course I'm tired, but it's a pleasant tiredness . . . Rita, did you notice that man there on the porch at the hotel? The red-Buick man, I mean. He didn't even see us this time."

"I think he did. His indifference was a little too deliberate. Almost any man would have given us the courtesy of an appraising glance. That man doesn't belong around here, I'm sure of that . . . We're almost across the bridge. Look for Maud's Tavern."

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

A huge, 400-pound bronze statue of a dog was moved to its "permanent home" on the front lawn of the Wallace Crist residence on N. Court St. at Park Place.

The city received its annual check from Ted Lewis, Circleville-born famed entertainer, to be used at the park named for him.

County commissioners studied a foul-up in county relief funds.

TEN YEARS AGO

A reporter visited the dog pound on Island Rd. and declared conditions there were intolerable.

An 18-year old former Pickaway Township youth made the national headlines when he married a 79-year old Kentucky woman.

Local radio fans were saddened by the news that Major Edward Bowes, who originated the "Amateur Hour", died on the eve of his 72nd birthday.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

William D. Hedges of Ashville received an appointment as a graduate assistant in chemistry at the University of Boston.

Sterling Poling, 14, was hurt when he was thrown from a plow as the team of horses pulling it bolted.

A local cleaning establishment advertised cleaning and pressing ladies dresses for $1 and men's suits for 75 cents—an interesting comparison with prices today.

Try, Stop Me

A consignment of new draftees (not necessarily Marines) was taken for a gruelling 10-mile-hike with full equipment strapped to their backs. Then the grizzled sergeant (a Phil Silvers type) announced, "Now we've got to march right back without stopping for food or rest. Any man not fit for that, take three paces forward."

The whole outfit promptly took three paces forward —all, that is, but one poor boot who stood rooted in his place. "So, you're willin'," boomed the sarge. "I admire your guts!"

"Guts, my eye!" groaned the rookie. "I'm so pooped I can't even walk the three paces forward!"

Stephen Longstreet is still reeling from what a Hollywood producer's wife observed. "That Bill Holden is an actor after my own heart," she sighed. "A recognized star of the first rank, he still lives as simply as if he were a $2,000-a-week writer!"

Local Women Attend OSU 'Capsule' College Course

Demonstration Unit Also Holds Meeting

Several local women attended the first homemakers' short course at Ohio State University, Columbus, which has just been completed.

Approximately 338 were enrolled for this special three day educational and fellowship feature planned by the State Home Demonstration Council.

Those taking advantage of the "capsule" college course from Pickaway County were: Mrs. Dick Tootle, Mrs. Pearl Armstrong, Mrs. Lydia Neff and Mrs. Leora Sayre.

Enrollees attended four classes in home economics and a related subject and had an opportunity to: attend assemblies, participate in group singing, attend a special banquet and a surprise party and see and taste foods cooked in an electronic oven.

Mrs. Charles Gunder of Mansfield, president of state home demonstration council and who planned the back-to-school project, said: "We feel it a great privilege to be associated with our state university and it will give us an opportunity to receive up-to-date information from the extension staff of the School of Home Economics and the College of Agriculture."

Mrs. Gunder continued to say, "In our receiving and sharing we will gain much knowledge and experience which contribute to individual growth and development.

The state home demonstration council meeting was held this year in conjunction with the homemakers' short course at OSU.

Delegates from Pickaway County to the annual session were: Mrs. Floy Brobst and Mrs. Noble Barr, county home demonstration council vice-president.

Others attending were: Mrs. Dorsey Bumgarner of District 10, home demonstration council president, and Mrs. Leora Sayre, county home economics agent.

Berger Guild 12 Holds Meet With Mrs. Bob Schmidt

Mrs. Robert Schmidt of Circleville Route 4 was hostess to members of Berger Hospital Guild 12 for their regular monthly meeting held in her home.

Mrs. Leslie Dearth, chairman, presided for the business session. Tentative plans were made for the annual family picnic to be held August 14.

Mrs. Sterling Poling demonstrated the making of a pipe cleaner and feather "stork" that she had designed and which the group decided to make in quantity to use as tray favors for new mothers at the hospital. This will be done during the July meeting to be held in the home of Mrs. Melvin Armstrong.

Mrs. Orley Judy presented a five minute discussion on handicrafts. Mrs. Judy related something of the history of the subject.

She listed as the first handicrafts the bowls and jars made by early man to fill his need for some sort of container and said that he decorated these with designs from nature.

Mrs. Judy continued to say that from 900 A.D. many of the people expected an end of the world 1000 A.D., so little was done in the field of handicrafts.

She said that during the period from 1200 to 1400 A.D. the churches regulated and controled most of the arts and crafts and they were monuments to the crafts at that time.

Mrs. Judy said that from 1400 when craftsmen were released by the churches there was much more variety in types and styles of crafts. She listed the furniture makers of England as being very prominent among the early craftsmen. She stressed the value of handicrafts among patients in hospitals and concluded by saying that among handicraft there is a hobby for everyone.

Refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. George Furhman of N. Pickaway St. had as house guests Mrs. Furhman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Benson of Gary, Ind., also her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Benson of Gary. Bobby Furhman returned with the Bensons for a visit.

Raccoon 'Treed' Up On 10th Floor

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Two special agents battled and captured their prey on the ledge of a 10th floor office building in the downtown business district.

Then the two agents from the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals asked: "How did the raccoon get to the 10th floor of an office building?"

Strong Police Action Seen Needed Now

CLEVELAND (AP) — A man who knows about traffic slaughter believes it will take strong police measures to cut it down.

Samuel R. Gerber told a safety conference Wednesday night he has seen the bodies of 3,937 persons who were killed in traffic accidents in his 19½ years as Cuyahoga County coroner.

He recommended calling out the National Guard on holidays, suspending violators' licenses, using unmarked police cars, cutting speed limits, and abolishing railroad grade crossings.

Education, engineering and enforcement haven't reached the drivers who are causing the accidents, Gerber said.

"It is the undisciplined persons who usually cause accidents. They never seem to be reached, despite education, traffic engineering and enforcement. To reach the undisciplined, we may have to take measures that the disciplined group may resent. But they must conform."

About 80 police officers, officials and judges attended the conference at Western Reserve University at the request of Gerber, who wants to develop a permanent organization to work out a uniform accident prevention scheme.

Wooster College Sets High Goal

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP) — Howard Lowry, president of the College of Wooster, has announced a precentennial development program with a goal of $20 million over the next 10 years.

The Presbyterian institution will be 100 years old on Dec. 18, 1966.

The goal includes $5 million for new buildings, $7 million for endowment, $2 million for restoration of existing facilities and $3 million for current operation.

Heading the program will be Benjamin F. Fairless, former president of U. S. Steel Corp. Fairless has been a trustee of the college since 1948.

Liquor Department Shakeup Complete

COLUMBUS (AP)—A shakeup in the enforcement branch of the state liquor control department has been completed with the transfer of three investigators-in-charge, Director William C. Bryant announced.

Two weeks ago, six other chief investigators were handed new assignments.

Bryant said the transfers were made "in order to improve and strengthen our enforcement."

Transferred are Lawrence Lucius, Sandusky District to Toledo District; V. C. Tobias, Toledo to Akron, and George Simpson, Akron to Sandusky.

Senate OKs Big Bill For Flood Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday passed a bill to appropriate $872,186,000 for construction of flood control, navigation, power and reclamation projects in the year starting July 1.

Senators and representatives will have to get together now to reconcile the differences between appropriations authorized in the two chambers.

Included in the Senate bill were the following construction projects:

Ohio: Ashtabula harbor $1,800,000, Cleveland harbor $1,700,000, Dillon Dam $1,500,000, Muskingum River reservoirs $425,000, New Cumberland lock and dam $8,000,000, Toledo harbor $380,000.

Indiana: Markland locks and dam $5,000,000.

Kentucky: Greenup lock and dam $,900,000, Lock and Dam 41 $1,000,000.

The bill also provides funds for planning the following projects:

Kentucky: Lock and Dam 41 $15,000, New Richmond lock and dam $150,000.

On all Ohio projects except Dillon Dam, the Senate appropriations were the same as those in the House. The House made no provision for Dillon Dam. The House also made no provision for Kentucky Lock and Dam 41 construction and appropriated only $100,000 for planning the New Richmond lock and dam.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: Twenty-five years ago, I was married to a wonderful man, 10 years my senior, who had two young sons and lots of friends who welcomed me into their group. I was an only child, orphaned at 18, hence my life with Bob seemed the more wonderful.

The years passed swiftly. We were a close family unit and had a wonderful life and many friends. The boys grew. The elder finished his Army service and married; and the younger was about to be graduated from college when I found I was pregnant. I was thrilled beyond measure; but Bob started worrying.

Returning from the younger boy's wedding, Bob had a heart attack. A few days later Carol was born. For the next three years Bob was in and out of hospitals, and when Carol was three, Bob died. In those three years, everything had changed.

Since Bob has gone and I don't have money to entertain, I am left completely alone. Nobody remembers to invite me on Saturday nights, which years ago meant dinner parties for us, and still does to rthem. Occasionally I see old friends at church, who ask about the boys, and say how wonderful that I have Carol. But none of them thinks that at 49, I still have a life to live.

Any advice for me?

R. D.

DEAR R. D.: You say rather bitterly, with a touch of self-pity, "I no longer belong to the clique, because I don't wear mink or drive a Cadillac." I think I ought to advise you against that kind of squawk. It is a dishonest slant, a false reproach against your former fair weather friends.

It is a refusal to face up to precisely what you have lost, namely, your husband. It is pretty self-evident, and most women prove in their scramble to marry, that adult society as organized around couples almost entirely. The pair has a status (potentially)—an entree—that the individual (with rare exceptions) simply hasn't got.

Also, you need to recognize that you aren't acting your age, nor giving a creditable account of yourself as a life-seasoned widow.

It strikes me that your whole attitude is a rigid resistance to life as it is—for the nature of physical life is change, and the fading away of what has been. At your age, you should be dgiesting this fact, and learning to take life as it comes.

"Into each life some rain must fall; some days must be dark and dreary"—and you will be more of a magnet for friends, when you accept your widowhood equably, without panic or pathos.

Leaning Building Being Fixed Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—An eight-story parking building which tilted more than 20 degrees will be strengthened and completed. The building has already been straightened.

Building Commissioner William D. Guion approved plans for completing the construction.

The structure in downtown Cleveland started to tilt about six weeks ago and threatened to collapse.

Guion told Floyd Kiehl, manager of the Central Light Slab Co., the builders, that his approval was given on the condition that R. M. Gensert & Associates, which drew up new plans, supervise the work and make daily reports to him.

'Inspired' Lover Freed In Lawsuit

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A pharmacist who claimed he wrecked his auto when he became "inspired" and returned the kiss of his girl friend has been freed in a damage suit filed against him by the girl.

Judge Thomas M. Marshall refused a new trial to Mary Lyons, 29, of nearby McKeesport. She had charged Alex Wargo, Glassport, Pa., with negligent driving.

Wargo testified Miss Lyons kissed him while he was moving and that he became "inspired" and responded in kind "for a period between 30 seconds and a minute" during which time his car hit a pole.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Pork prices declined on the wholesale market in the past week, and a number of food stores across the country have been quick to offer the meat as a weekend bargain.

Wholesale prices for lamb have also dropped off in the past few days but for the most part there has not been enough time for this to be reflected in retail prices. The declines in pork and lamb come after a prolonged climb in price for both meats.

Beef prices held firm at wholesale this week and on many butcher counters price tags were higher, reflecting wholesale increases of the past few weeks.

Among vegetables, cabbage was generally in heavy supply and government market experts have put it on the list of outstanding buys.

Other crops from local farms now on the list of outstanding buys are lettuce, radishes, green onions and spinach.

A two pound smoked boneless pork butt may be roasted on a rack in an open pan; it will need about an hour and a quarter in a moderate oven.

Union Chief Asks Civil Rights Plank

The criticized Republican and Democratic leaders whom he said are reluctant to oppose politicians who are blocking moves toward integration in Southern schools.

Civil Defense Offers Rules Of Safety Against Twisters

Regional offices of the nation's Civil Defense Corps have reminded Pickaway County residents that the peak of the "tornado season" is now here, and that isolated twisters could strike this section of the state.

Civil Defense Director Bernard Tait disclosed receipt of "Tornado Safety Rules" to be passed along to the local public. In turning over the list of precautions, Tait said:

"I know that the average person isn't going to pay too much attention to tornado warnings in Pickaway County. Somehow we just have the idea that when they do come, they'll hit some other part of the state.

"Our chances of being hit here are, I'm glad to say, low in percentage — but the safety rules we've been asked to distribute come under the heading of all safety rules. That is, it's far better to have the information and not need it than to find ourselves faced with a high winds emergency without knowing what it's all about.

"Everybody should clip and save the precautions."

THE "Tornado Safety Rules" follow:

1. There is no universal protection against tornadoes except caves or underground excavations. When time permits, go to a tornado cellar, cave, or underground excavation which should have an air outlet to help equalize the air pressure. It should be kept fit for use, free from water, gas, or debris; and preferably equipped with pick and shovel.

2. If you are in open country:

Move at right angles to the tornado's path. Tornadoes usually move ahead at about 25 to 40 miles per hour. If there is no time to escape, lie flat in the nearest depression such as a ditch or ravine.

3. If in a city or town:

Seek inside shelter, preferably in a steel reinforced building. STAY AWAY FROM WINDOWS!

In homes: The southwest corner of the lowest floor or in the basement offers greatest safety. People living in brick or stone houses should seek other shelter, preferably in a storm cellar or the basement of a frame house. If time permits, electricity and fuel lines should be shut off. Windows on the north and east sides of the house may also be opened to help reduce damage to the building.

Standing against the inside walls on the lower floors of an office building offers some protection.

4. If in schools:

In city areas: Especially if school building is of good steel reinforced construction, stay inside, away from windows, remain near an inside wall on the lower floors when possible. AVOID AUDITORIUMS AND GYMNASIUMS with large, poorly-supported roofs!

In rural schools that do not have reinforced construction — remove children and teachers to a ravine or ditch if storm shelter is not available.

5. If in factories and plants:

On receiving a tornado warning, a lookout should be posted to keep safety officials advised of the tornado's approach. Advance preparation should be made for shutting off electrical circuits and fuel lines if the tornado approaches the plant. Workers should be moved to sections of the plant offering the greatest protection.

6. Keep calm! It will not help to get excited. People have been killed by running out into streets and by turning back into the path of a tornado. Even though a warning is issued, chances of a tornado striking one's home or location are very slight. Tornadoes cover such a small zone, as a rule, that relatively only a few places in a warned area are directly affected. You should know about tornadoes though, "just in case".

7. Keep tuned to your radio or television station for latest tornado advisory information. Do not call the Weather Bureau, except to report a tornado, as your individual request may tie up telephone lines urgently needed to receive special reports or to relay advisories to radio stations for dissemination to thousands in the critical area.

Tornadoes happen most frequently in the midwestern, southern and central states from March through September. Pickaway County during the past few years has had a number of serious "tornado alerts" and numerous wind storms that caused extensive damage.

A tornado's appearance is fairly well known—a funnel-shaped cloud, spinning rapidly and extending toward the earth from the base of a thundercloud. Hot, sticky weather sets the stage for tornadoes—when they happen.

Rain, and frequently hail, precede tornadoes, and the most dangerous time of day is considered between 3 p. m. and 7 p. m. In nearly all cases, tornadoes move from southwest to northeast.

Tait said he wanted to make it clear that the release of precautions at this time does not mean that tornadoes are expected soon in Pickaway County. The information given, he stressed, is purely precautionary.

"Just in case we ever need it," he explained.

Teen-Age Road-e-o Set For Saturday

CLEVELAND (AP) —The best young drivers in the state will test their highway skills Saturday in the Ohio Teen-age Road-e-o in suburban Euclid.

Then they will maneuver their automobiles through a course made complicated with barriers and barrels. Later they will go on public roads so that their attitudes toward pedestrians, other drivers and traffic laws can be judged.

Preventive Heart Surgery Being Urged By Specialist

CHICAGO (AP)—An operation that aids ailing hearts could be used to prevent serious heart damage before it occurs, a heart specialist believes.

Some 1,200 persons with sick hearts have had this surgery, said Dr. Bernard Brofman, Mount Sinai Hospital, Cleveland. He called it safe and effective for a majority of patients who have had coronary attacks.

It should no longer be considered a "last resort" step after other treatments have failed, he said. "Ideally, it should be performed before any significant muscle damage has occurred," he told the American Medical Assn.

The operation is one method of helping people whose arteries bringing life-nourishing blood to the heart muscle have become plugged.

It involves dusting asbestos powder over the surface of the heart to stimulate new channels of blood flow, and carrying out other steps. It was developed by Dr. Claude Beck of Western Reserve University, Cleveland.

* * *

NINETY PER cent of 185 persons operated since 1951 have been freed from all or most pain, and 90 per cent have returned to full or parttime work, including some doing heavy labor, Dr. Brofman said. None among the last 58 patients succumbed to the surgery, even though a fourth were in bad condition.

Dr. Brofman proposed it could help some persons, suffering from the artery plugging, before they got into serious trouble.

Most persons dying of coronaries still actually have enough heart muscle left to keep the heart beating if enough of the muscle could be kept nourished, he said. In only 20 per cent does the life pump fail because of extensive destruction of heart muscle tissues.

In many patients, deaths might be prevented by surgery, done early enough, he said.

Mitchell To Speak

CLEVELAND (AP)—Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell has informed Grand Chief Engineer Guy L. Brown that he will address 400 delegates at the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers convention here next Tuesday.

We assume that music is something to be heard. But Beethoven never heard either his Fifth or his Ninth symphonies. But he wrote them. Helen Keller has been blind and deaf nearly all her life, but she became a great public figure. Thomas Edison could not hear but he invented the phonograph. Milton was blind but he wrote some of the greatest poetry in any language.

The human mind is an ingenious instrument which is at its greatest when it transcends all difficulties and impediments. the question is not whether Eisenhower is a well or a sick man; it is whether he has been a competant President.

Similarly, it does not so much matter whether Stevenson, Harriman, Johnson or Symington, to mention a few Democratic candidates, is sick or whole, but whether each is a competent, broad-spirited man of character. Who will be alive four years from now, nobody can say for you, for me, for a President or for anyone.

Coon-On-The-Log Contests Squelched By Missouri Law

LEXINGTON, Mo. (AP)—The law came to the raccoon's defense today and was set to squelch the revival of an old frontier pastime — 'coon-on-the-log contests.

A formal ruling by Missouri Atty. Gen. John M. Dalton held the sport violates a statute prohibiting the "baiting of any bull, bear, dog, cock, or other creature."

The opinion was issued at the request of D. W. Sherman, Lafayette County prosecutor.

"There's been quite a rash of contests," Sherman said. 'We've had some complaints from humane society people.

"The business dates back to pioneer days, and there was a question whether you could regard it as a legitimate sort of trial for 'coon dogs. So I decided to ask the attorney general."

For the benefit of city folks who think of raccoons in terms of coats or politician's caps, it should be noted that the 'coon is a worthy foe when hunted legitimately.

A relative of the bear, he lives mostly in trees and is hunted by dog packs at night throughout the hill country. Hunters generally agree the cornered 'coon, on land or water, is a match for a single dog, though some dog fanciers are usually ready to argue the point.

That's how coon-on-a-log contests apparently got started in frontier days and why ready money betting has usually attended the contest.

It usually works like this:

A raccoon is chained to a log in deep water, some 60 feet off shore. A dog is allowed a given time to swim out and yank the ring-tailed captive into the water.

The 'coon has free use of teeth and claws. Officials in a nearby boat are supposed to separate the animals if the dog manages to drag the raccoon off the log. The encounters often are bloody.

Sherman said no prosecutions were planned but the contests will be stopped.

Harvard Professor Freed In Probe

BOSTON (AP) — The Department of Justice has dismissed a contempt indictment against Wendell H. Furry, an associate professor at Harvard University who acknowledged former Communist membership but refused to answer questions put by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

U. S. Atty. Anthony Julian moved for dismissal on the ground that U. S. Dist. Judge Bailey Aldrich's acquittal of former Harvard researcher Leon J. Kamin in a similar case left the government with evidence "deemed insufficient to warrant further prosecution."

Turnpike Chiefs Eye Big Billboard

CLEVELAND (AP) — Will a billboard advertising air brakes make truck drivers safety conscious or will it be a distraction to drivers?

Ohio Turnpike authorities have started a study of a giant sign being erected at the Bendix-Westinghouse Automotive Air Brake Co. in Elyria.

The 240 foot long sign with capital letters 26 feet high will be visible to turnpike travelers.

Billboards are banned within a certain distance of the turnpike, but this giant one apparently is outside the area covered by the no-billboard edict.

Lawsuit Winners Shave Settlement

CLEVELAND (AP)—Attorneys for Carl (Butchie) Berry made an out-of-court settlement for $160,000 today for injuries the boy suffered in a traffic accident involving DeWitt Motor Co. of Akron.

A common pleas jury had returned a $300,000 judgment for the boy. But Attorney Ralph Spangenberg said Butchie's family agreed to accept the lesser amount because De Witt Motor was in danger of going into bankruptcy.

Butchie, 8, was hit by a car driven by a DeWitt salesman.

Cincy Hotel Marquee Falls During Storm

CINCINNATI (AP)—Cables holding a 40-foot marquee over the entrance of a downtown Cincinnati hotel snapped during a severe storm Tuesday night, and the front part of the massive marquee crashed to the sidewalk. Six persons were injured.

It was not known whether a lightning bolt or an accumulation of rainwater caused the marquee to collapse during the storm that swept Cincinnati and nearby Northern Kentucky cities.

None of the six injured was trapped under the metal and glass marquee of the Sheraton-Gibson Hotel. But at least two of them were shoved through a restaurant window which was shattered.

Throughout the Greater Cincinnati area electric lines were knocked out and there was widespread damage as water poured into homes and business establishments.

The most severe part of the storm lasted about two hours but there was sporadic rain and lightning after that. One bolt of lightning struck the roof of Music Hall in Cincinnati, and police roped off a section of 14th Street because of fear a part of the roof might fall.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said 2.66 inches of rain fell in two hours, beginning about 6 o'clock.

The injured included John Breding, 25, and Philip Grove, 29, both of Ironton. They suffered severe cuts.

Witnesses said that only a few minutes before there had been 25 to 30 persons under the marquee.

Grove said, "There was a bolt of lightning. It fell all at once."

Lost Prospector Is Rescued After 8-Day Diet Of Lizard

MOAB, Utah (AP)—When a boat carrying two uranium prospectors capsized in the raging, muddy Colorado River, one of the men took off for the desert.

The other, 43-year-old Charles L. Robinson of Hot Springs, Ark., elected to work along the river and eat berries to stay alive.

Robinson was finally rescued just eight days after the mishap.

Instead of berries, he ate raw lizards and cactus, and he lost 42 pounds during his ordeal.

"Lizards taste a lot like sardines or tuna when a guy is good and hungry," he said as he recuperated in a Moab hospital.

Of his adventures, he said:

"I was rescued alive only by a divine act of God.

"There is nothing heroic about going through there.

"You can feel your neck and wrists getting skinny. That stuff about living a month in the forest with a knife is bunk. Not in this country. The lizards are too small."

Robinson's companion, Bryan Waelder, 52, of Long Beach, Calif., was rescued last Friday after walking overland almost 100 miles through the desert.

Deputy Sheriff Bill Wells of Hanksville spotted Waelder from the air and rescued him.

Lions Shut Out Williamsport In Opening Game

Joe Adkins Allows One Hit For Victory In Babe Ruth League

Circleville's kids baseball program at Ted Lewis Park got off to a rousing start Wednesday as the Lions Club shut out Williamsport 2 to 0 on a one-hitter by Joe Adkins.

The winners got 10 hits but could only score lone runs in the third and sixth innings. In addition, Williamsport committed five errors, none of which figured in the scoring.

Adkins struck out 13 batters and walked only two in the seven inning game. Myers, the losing pitcher, got the only hit, a single.

Both pitchers went all the way. Although Myers gave up all the hits to the Lions Club, the winners left nine men stranded on base.

Birdie High In Praise Of Pirate Pilot

CINCINNATI (AP) — Birdie Tebbetts, who may be the best manager in the National League, is convinced Bobby Bragan, freshman pilot who has done such a splendid job masterminding the Pittsburgh Pirates into first place, will be on the big league scene for many years.

"That fellow Bragan has shown me he has what it takes to manage successfully up here," Tebbetts said last night after the scheduled game between his Cincinnati Reds and the Pirates had been postponed because of a thunderstorm.

"He's not afraid to gamble and he's got the guts of a burglar. He knows what he's doing out there all the time and he's always thinking ahead. More important he's got the courage of his convictions."

Tebbetts' enthusiastic endorsement to Bragan is understandable because they are the same type manager. Both are deep strategists, both like to try innovations such as a four - man outfield against sluggers like Stan Musial and a five-man infield in an effort to frustrate an attempted bunt. Neither is hesitant about pulling out his ace pitcher for a pinch hitter in early innings, nor going against the book, or law of averages, when they believe the situation merits it.

Last night's rainout prevented the Reds from making an effort to regain first place in the National League, a spot they lost to Pittsburgh Tuesday night.

Gophers, Arizona Awaiting Finale

OMAHA (AP)—Arizona and Minnesota meet for the third time tonight in the NCAA college world series with the title at stake.

Arizona evened up the series last night by thumping the Big Ten champions, 10 to 4.

That was the second meeting of the clubs, Minnesota having won 3-1, on Sunday to put the series record of both teams at 4-1. The tourney is double elimination.

Fabius Entered In Ohio Derby

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fabius of Calumet Farm, place runner in the Kentucky Derby, and Swoon's Son, winner of last Saturday's $50,000 Chicagoan, head a list of 53 horses nominated today for the $45,000 Ohio Derby at Thistledown Racetrack June 23.

The Ohio Derby is a mile and one-eighth test.

Other three-year-olds nominated for Ohio's richest race include Kingmaker, winner of the $25,000 Kent Stake; Come On Red, third in the Kentucky Derby; and Golf Ace, disqualified winner of the Wood Memorial.

Wertz' Spark Helping Tribe Stay In Race

BOSTON (AP)—The comeback of Vic Wertz is helping keep the Cleveland Indians in the American League pennant race.

After winning a bout with non-paralytic polio last year, the 31-year-old first baseman is on the way to his best season in 13 years in the majors.

Wertz blasted two homers and a single yesterday, to boost his batting average to .333, 91 points higher than last year at this time.

It wasn't enough to win the game, as the Indians played an 11-inning 8-8 deadlock with the Boston Red Sox. A storm, complete with hail, rain and lighthing stopped the play. The game must be replayed in its entirety later in the season.

Wertz nearly broke it up in the ninth inning. With two out and Al Rosen on first base, Wertz smashed a long drive just foul into the right field seats. Then he lined one to the pitcher who threw him out.

His two homers gave him 14 for the season, the same number he hit all last season. His five runs batted in gave him 44 for the season, only 11 under 1955.

Wertz was playing with a pulled leg muscle, aggravated by a slide in Tuesday's game.

The Indians return Friday to Cleveland for a 14-game home stand, starting with the New York Yankees. Lopez hopes Herb Score, recovering from a digestive ailment, will be able to pitch.

Carl (Bobo) Olson won 15 straight pro bouts before losing his first fight in 1947.

Ray Robinson won his first 40 pro boxing bouts before losing to Jake LaMotta in Detroit early 1943.

John B. Kelly, father of Princess Grace of Monaco, is president of the Atlantic City Racing Assn.

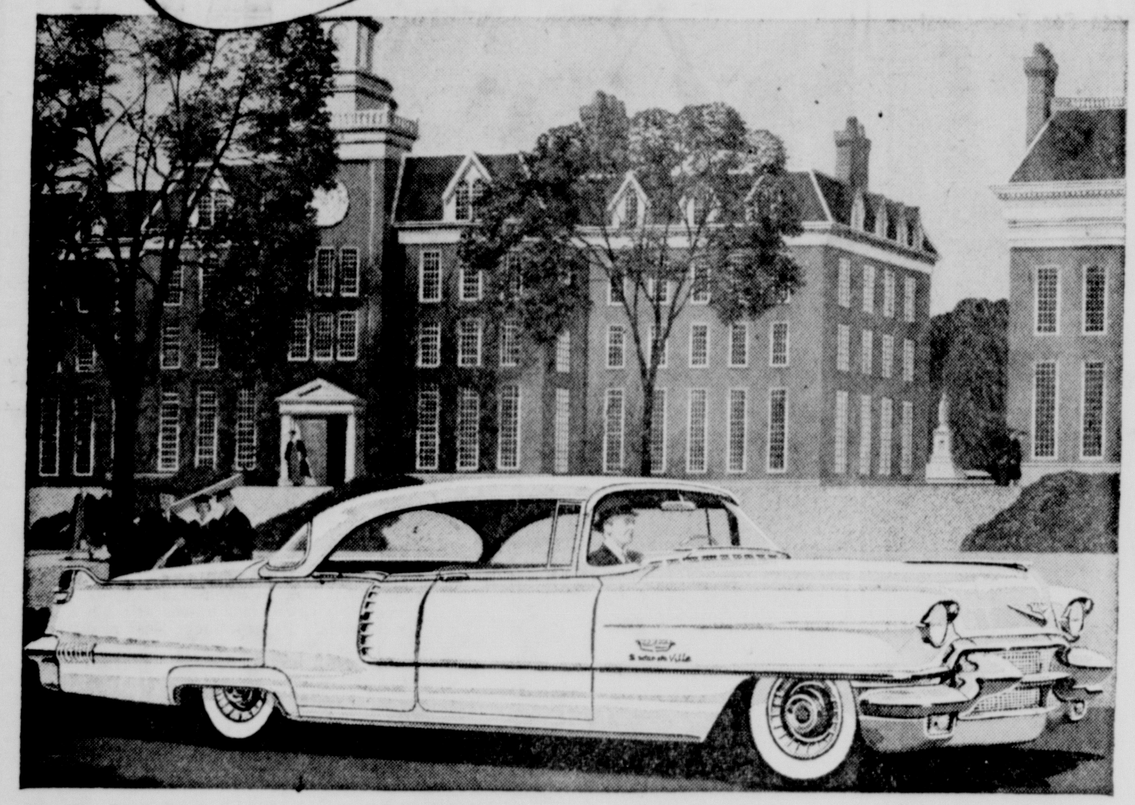
Cadillac



Just Graduated...To a Cadillac!

It's graduation time! And this happy gentleman—appropriately enough—has just gone through some important graduation exercises of his own.

It was just a few minutes ago, in fact, that he stood in his dealer's showroom and accepted the keys to his first Cadillac car.

But even though he now holds his final degree, so to speak, in motor car ownership, his education in all the good things of motordom is only beginning.

Take performance, for instance. The car is so smooth and powerful, and so nimble and obedient that it automatically revises a man's standards of automotive performance.

Consider comfort. Rolling along the broadest boulevard or taking the roughest bylane, the car is incredibly smooth and level in ride.

And think about pride and satisfaction. What an extraordinary feeling it is to sit in command of the "car of cars"—and find yourself the subject of admiring glances on every hand.

Have you ever considered how wonderful it would be to "graduate" to Cadillac? If you have, then this is a marvelous time to make the move.

Certainly, it has never been easier to sign your name to the title. We are, happily, in a position to offer you prompt delivery on your favorite model—and we know you will be pleased to learn how practical Cadillac ownership has now become.

Why not stop in while the springtime is still with us—and spend an hour at the wheel?

It's a wonderful season and a wonderful car—and a wonderful opportunity to enjoy them both!

Robin Roberts May Miss His 20 Victories

One-Time Philadelphia Ace Running Cold This Season Loses Eighth

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It begins to look as if the rest of the National League has caught up with Robin Roberts, the ace of Philadelphia's pitching staff who may miss 20 victories for the first time in seven years.

Milwaukee's Braves, who had lost 13 of 23 run-ins with Roberts, greeted Robin like a favorite cousin Wednesday night, rocking him from the mound with a seven-run fourth inning that handed the big righthander his eighth defeat against only five victories.

It was the fourth straight setback for Roberts, who hasn't lost that many in a row since 1953. Never in his six straight 20-or-more-victory seasons was Robin shackled with a losing record at this stage of the schedule. He's had only one losing year in baseball—when he was 7-9 as a rookie with the Phils in 1948.

Only one other NL game was played, with the Chicago Cubs winning No. 10 in the last 13 on a 6-5 decision over the New York Giants. Rain postponed the first-place battle between Pittsburgh and Cincinnati. Brooklyn and St. Louis were not scheduled.

In the American, the Chicago White Sox beat the New York Yankees for the first time in seven tries 7-5 and edged into second, four games back of the Yanks, as Cleveland and Boston battled to an 11-inning 8-8 tie halted by rain.

Detroit bopped Baltimore 2-0 on Charley Maxwell's ninth-inning home run. Kansas City popped out of the cellar with 21 hits that beat Washington 13-4 and dropped the Senators into last place.

The Braves snapped a three-game losing streak in their 14-hit attack against the last place Phils. Roberts absorbed nine of the blows, including three triples by Danny O'Connell that tied a major league record. Del Crandall and Ed Mathews homered for five runs in the big fourth.

Three New York errors totaled five unearned runs for the Cubs, who counted a three-run homer by Eddie Miksis as Bob Rush won his sixth with ninth-inning relief. Jim Hearn lost it for a 3-6 mark.

The White Sox won the hard way, giving up three unearned runs with four errors and overcoming a 3-1 deficit in the fourth on Ron Northey's pinch three-run homer off starter Bob Turley. Larry Doby made it 5-4 in the fifth with his first home run of the season and Luis Aparico packed it away with a two-run, bases-loaded single in the seventh.

Detroit had just one hit off Billy Loes, making his first start for the Orioles since his purchase from Brooklyn, before he retired in the seventh. Maxwell's 11th homer was the first this season off reliefer George Zuverink.

Charley Thompson and Vic Power each had five hits for the A's while Hector Lopez and Gus Zernial homered in the hit parade against four Washington pitchers.

Illinois Broker Leading Seniors

RYE, N. Y. (AP)—A 144 by Franklin G. Clement, 56-year-old Lake Forest, Ill., broker, was the target as the second half of the original field of 385 started play today in the United States Seniors' Golf Assn. championship.

Clement, playing in the tournament in which the minimum age is 55, shot even par in his two rounds over the Apawamis Club's par 72 course. On Tuesday he posted a 73 and came back yesterday with a 71.

Defending champion John W. Roberts of Columbus, Ohio, faded out of the picture with 152.

Marty's Pilot, owned by John Martindale of Williamsport and driven by Porter Martin of Circleville, won a camera decision over two other pacers in a three-horse photo finish at Hilliards Raceway Wednesday night.

The winner was clocked in 2:07 3-5, his best time, in the fourth race, a 28 Class Pace. Marty's Pilot barely nosed out Dixie K and Lite Direct, climaxing a five-horse stretch duel.

This was the second victory in as many nights for Martin. On opening night Tuesday, he won the Class C Pace (Classified) with his own entry, Connie Brewer. His time that night, 2:09 2-5, is also the best clocked by the pacer.

Another well known driver, who has competed in this area, ended up in the money Tuesday. Eddie Boyer drove Newsman to a first in the 22 Class Pace's first heat and second in the second heat.

A crowd of 2,010 saw Wednesday night's events. Dutch Parlay, owned by A. A. Coder of Cardington, won the winner's purse in the featured trot.

Giambra To Delay Challenging Champ

SYRACUSE, N. Y. (AP)—Joey Giambra wants a couple of more fights under his belt before he hurls any challenges at middleweight champion Ray Robinson and the top contenders in the talent-laden division.

The 160-pound class is the big bread winner for boxing's promoters these days. And Giambra, 24, fits neatly into the picture.

A high ranking contender two years ago when he went into the Army, Giambra showed that he's getting set to vault back into the top ten. He slammed out a close but unanimous 10-round decision over John L. Sullivan of England here last night.

Olympic Horse Tests Upset By Barn Fire

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Horses' worst enemies, fire and smoke, threw a cloud of uncertainty over today's final stage of the three-day event in the Equestrian Olympic games.

A gutted building in the stable area told its own story of near disaster. The building, used for dressage training, went up in flames last night.

Dozens of Olympic horses from 29 nations, stabled only a few yards away, were hurriedly evacuated as smoke screened the barracks.

The big question today was how badly did the smoke and sudden change in training routine upset the finely tuned horses. Nearly 40 of them were put out to grass in a local park until the smoke cleared.

The three-day event ends with today's show jumping. The test is to demonstrate that on a day after tremendous effort in the endurance competition the horses have retained that suppleness and energy needed in ordinary jumping competition.

Britain went into the final day leading in the team competition with 311.48 penalty points. Germany was second with 401.91 and Canada third with 532.72.

The United States, along with teams from 10 other countries, were disqualified yesterday when at least one of their riders didn't complete the 21¾-mile course made muddy and treacherous by rain.

Ruth 'Catches Up' With Mick Mantle

NEW YORK (AP)—Babe Ruth has "caught up" with Mickey Mantle.

Mantle, the young New York Yankee power man of the moment who once was 12 games ahead of Ruth's record 60-home run pace of 1927, now is just even with the Babe.

Mickey, who hasn't homered in a week, has 21 for 53 games.

'Old Man' Hogan Is Center Of Controversy At U.S. Open

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The "old man" and a few young men were the only controversial subjects today as the 56th U.S. Open Golf Championship—a tournament that gives real promise of being the biggest and best ever held—got under way on the lush east course of Rochester's Oak Hill Club.

"The old man" is a tag Dick Mayer hung on Ben Hogan — a great golfer who may or may not have seen his best playing days and who is here trying to win an unprecedented fifth Open title.

The sturdy little man from Texas has stirred up more discussions among the players themselves and the multitude of fans than any other of the 162 players.

Some think he's the man to beat and that the long, 6,902-yard, par 70 Oak Hill course is just the kind for him. Others figure that age—Ben will be 44 in August—and the effects he still feels from his near-fatal automobile accident several years ago slowed Hogan's competitive pace so he can't outlast the strong-legged youngsters in this rugged event.

The young men are the caddies, whose peeve against tournament officials came to light Wednesday when Sam Snead was denied the use of his long-time bag toter, Jimmy Steed.

Snead was more than slightly scorched at the change, ordered by U.S. Golf Assn. officials because Steed had not been assigned through the regular caddy pool.

"I've had this fellow all week and now I get a new man. What do they care who caddies for who? Somebody snitched on me," the West Virginia walloper protested.

Steed, who has caddied for Snead some 22 years, got a regular job here, remained out of the original pool drawing and was listed as first alternate. Snead then dismissed the caddy he had drawn and was given the man he wanted. USGA officials decided that wasn't quite cricket.

Some of the other caddies asserted that the rule of a blind draw for caddies had been violated in other instances and that favored youngsters had been assigned to certain top players.

If somebody did "snitch" on Snead, it might have been a mistake. An angry Sam might be a lot harder to beat than a serene Sammy over the tough 72 hole grind. He still has about the finest swing in the game and his booming drives should count for a lot at Oak Hill. If he can sink a few putts, he should be a contender for the one big title he never has won.

It comes down to putting in Hogan's case, too. Mayer, for one, thinks the "old man" has lost his putting touch to a certain extent.

"He doesn't hit the ball firmly enough to putt well on slow greens," Dick said. "He'll do a lot better on fast greens—and you can bet they'll be plenty fast here."

Hogan's answer to that was "I never was a good putter. I've been working too hard for this tournament. I'm awfully tired and not playing well at all."

Only a year ago, after losing the Open playoff to Jack Fleck, Hogan said he never again would work so hard in preparing for a tournament. But he came here over a week in advance to practice and instead of resting Wednesday, as he often does, he played nine holes, spent considerable time hitting shots on the practice ground, then put in a half hour on the putting green.

The players almost unanimously termed Oak Hill a "fair" but not easy test of golf. It has several long par four holes which call for perfect shots to get home and one 602-yard par five with plenty of chances for trouble.

There's no murderously deep rough, but a player who wanders far from the fairways likely will find he can't make his shots stick on the slick greens. There are trees lining many of the holes and a profusion of white-sanded traps guards the greens. Its normal par is a stroke or so over the 35-35—70 listed on the tournament card.

There have been some scores in the 60's, as usual, during practice, but the consensus is that a 280 total—four par rounds, will take the $6,000 top money Saturday night.

If there's a tie it will be decided by an 18-hole playoff Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m. (EST). The playoff, if any, as well as the rounds are to be televised nationally (NBC).

Chances Good For Anglers This Weekend

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Good weather the next few days may provide the best fishing of the year for the weekend, the Ohio Division of Wildlife reported today.

The outlook by sections:

Northwest—Practically all lakes and streams are in good condition with considerable numbers of various kinds of fish being taken East Harbor in Ottawa County has been producing largemouth bass and bluegills. Lake St. Marys is in good condition with crappies and catfish being taken. Oxbow Lake in Defiance County is in good condition with bass and bluegills reported.

East Central and Southeast — Most streams in excellent condition, with the exception of Wills Creek and parts of the Muskingum River. Most lakes including Burr Oak, Seneca, Clouse, Hope, Alma and parts of Buckeye, Atwood, Leesville and Piedmont are in fine shape. Bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish are being reported taken in large numbers from most of these lakes.

Southwest — Report for most lakes and streams is clear and normal with bass, bluegills, crappies and catfish being taken in large numbers. Such lakes as Kiser, Stonelick, Cowan, Indian and Loramie should provide good fishing.

Escaped Prisoner Pledges Return

MANNING, S.C. (AP) — Clarendon County Sheriff T. S. Jackson is hopefully saving a cell for an escaped prisoner who left him this note:

"I finally made a key to open the door. I'll be back."

Also missing is a 12-gauge shotgun taken from the sheriff's car.

Jackson said the escapee, 24-year-old Johnny Edward Ard, was sentenced for auto theft, grand larceny, housebreaking and theft of auto parts.

Sixty-five per cent of major leaguers are right-handed batters, according to the Official Encyclopedia of Baseball.
